SENATE SUSTAINS THE PRESIDENT; WARNING RESOLUTION IS TABLED

NO CHANGE

In Situation Around Verdun
Fortress Shown in Official Reports

FRENCH LINES REMAIN
UNSHAKEN

German Drive Halted By Natural Difficulties

OF ARTILLERY MOVEMENT

Activity of British Along the Front in Belgium Has Begun to Attract Increased Attention As It Won Back for Them 800 Yards of Trenches They Had Lost.

The violent German offensive on Verdun has been resumed, the fighting taking on an extremely desperate character north of the French stronghold.

The Paris war office claims that the French repulsed all the German attacks, except that west of Fort Douaumont, the Germans succeeding in reaching the village of Douaumont, where the struggle is being continued.

The halt in the determined German offensive directed at the stronghold has been attributed by many observers to the difficulties of terrain interfering with the movement of heavy artillery, by the concentrated fire of which the Crown Prince's armies blasted their way through the outer defenses. Apparently the Germans now have been able to bring up at least some of their larger pieces, for the French war office has reported a considerable increase in the intensity of the fire along the front at Verdun both to the north and northwest and the Woerwe region to the east and southeast.

The drives from these two sides,
now renewed are held to indicate the familiar German plan of rolling up the flanks of a position or using the clawhammer jaws of the military machine to get at the kernel of the nut. Significance may be attached in this connection to the development of a heavy bombardment of the French positions on La Motte Homme (the dead man). This hill lies a mile and a half west of the band in the Meuse to the northwest of Verdun, from which it is eight miles distant. No infantry attack on this flank position has yet been reported.
However, the renewal of the assaults taking place in the Douaumont region, on the northwest front, where the French last night reported a German repulse.

Possible development of some German movement in the Argonne, still further to the northwest of the fortress, is indicated by the Paris report that the French have directed a concentrated fire on hostile positions there. Overseas eyes also are on the Champagne region, beyond the Argonne where the Germans recently made gains toward the south and where a serious break in the French lines would have a material influence on the situation at Verdun by interfering with lines of communication from the west.

German Military writers are laying stress on the large amount of territory wrested from the French in the first week on the advance on Verdun, pointing to the advantage which the reduction of the defensive front of the fortress gives the Germans for their concentric artillery fire.

The activity of the British along the front in Belgium has begun to attract increased attention with the delivery of the thrust which yesterday won back for them the 800-yards of trenches they lost last month along the Ypres-Comines canal.
From various sources have come accounts of heavy artillery play along the Yser front. Whether these reports arose merely from the preparatory fire for the local attack of yesterday or if a still greater effort by the British in course of development is not yet apparent.

Comparative inactivity prevails on the other fronts.

From Bombay comes a report that the Portuguese have hoisted their flag on all the German steamers at Mormugao, the Germans on board being interned at Panim, capital of the Portuguese colony of Goa, in India.
These seizures follow similar ones in Portuguese waters elsewhere, at home and in the colonies. Germany was recently reported to have sent an ultimatum to Portugal demanding the restoration of the requisitioned steamers.

HARD WORK

To Convince Germany This Nation Was in Earnest Says President

MONTHS AFTER BRYAN'S RESIGNATION

Resents Intimation He Favored
Going to War

EXPLAINS HIS ATTITUDE

For the Past Two Years As Disproving Such An Insinuation—Von Bernstorff and Lansing Refuse to Comment Upon Statements
After Denial From White House.

President Wilson's position on the international situation as revealed further today was that he had told Congressional leaders it was months after the resignation of former Secretary Bryan before the United States government could convince Germany that this nation was in earnest in its position on submarine warfare.

The President is understood to have mentioned this fact to show his belief that action by congress would further weaken the position of the United States abroad. He is understood to have told the leaders that charges that he wanted to get the United States into war were entirely disproved by his attitude during the last two years. He endured tears and ridicule, he said, because of his efforts to maintain peace. He is understood to have declared that he has always been willing to do anything except except sacrifice onor in order to maintain the United States at peace.

At the same time the President declared he did not see how the United States could do anything but sever diplomatic relations with any nation which killed Americans in violation of international law.

While both Secretary Lansing and Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, have flatly declined to comment upon the statements regarding the possibility of war attributed to President Wilson by Senator Gore and later denied by the White House, it was learned today that mention of the result of a break of diplomatic relations had been discussed quite casually and informally by the Secretary and the ambassador late in January of this year.

According to authoritative information
the discussion came at a time when Secretary Lansing informed the ambassador exactly what kind of a communication from Germany would settle the Lusitania case in a manner satisfactory to the United States. The ambassador is said to have informed Mr. Lan-

AMERICAN PANTHEON BEING ERECTED TO COMMEMORATE HEROES

sing that he believed his government might change some of the expressions used in the documents which the secretary had indicated would be acceptable. They agreed that the ambassador should submit the document to his government and see what changes it would suggest, which the ambassador did. At the same time, quite informally, he is understood to have asked the secretary what he thought would be the ultimate result should Germany fail to meet the requirements of the United States.

Secretary Lansing, it is said, told the ambassador that in event of a complete disagreement on the subject, the United States might be obliged to break off diplomatic relations. The ambassador is reliably represented as having replied that he fully understood the view of the secretary and to have added the hope that nothing of the kind ever would occur.

The authority from which this information was obtained said it should be understood that the ambassador was only expressing his own personal opinions and that the conversation with Secretary Lansing was absolutely informal and not to be regarded as significant of anything.

Buckeye Lake Park Is Leased for 10 Years; Will Be Improvements

E. R. Deffenbaugh, of Lancaster, and Capt. Dell Fisher, of the Fisher boat line at Buckeye lake, today closed a contract with the Ohio Electric Railway Company for a ten year lease of Buckeye Lake Park.
The new lessees took immediate possession and are now busy with architects and engineers mapping out improvements which are to be made at the lake and which will be started at once.

It will be pleasing news to the thousands upon thousands of people who annually visit beautiful Buckeye Lake to learn that the park has been placed under the capable management of Messrs. Deffenbaugh and Fisher. The former is well known over the state having established an enviable record during his incumbency of office under Governor James M. Cox, and was known as an official of more than exceptional executive ability. He is a large oil producer and has extensive farming interests both in Licking and Fair-

REPORT GERMAN RAIDER LURKING OFF CAPE HENRY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, March 3.—A report that a German commerce raider or prize was lurking off Cape Henry, Va., awaiting a favorable chance to make a dash for Newport News, or Norfolk, was brought here today by Captain Munkewitz of the Bull-insular liner
Grayson, arriving here from Porto Rico. Captain Munkewitz said that early yesterday the second officer reported a mysterious light to the east which he could not make out.

On Jan. 25 Captain Munkewitz said when he was practically in the same position several white lights were observed to the east. These lights merely flashed into view and then vanished and were succeeded by a green light from a vessel which crossed bows of the Grayson, exchanging signals with the ship to the east in the Morse code.

It was a few days after this that the Appam took refuge in Hampton Roads. Captain Munkewitz said heavy weather and clouds prevailed off the Virginia coast and that he was satisfied the vessels whose lights had been seen were trying to keep their movements secret. He felt sure that the lights did not belong to British cruisers as these patrol ships make no secret of their movements.

Senator Gore Votes Against His Own Resolution, After Introducing a Correction Declaring the Sinking of an Unwarned Vessel by a German Submarine a Cause of War Between United States and that Empire

TWO DEMOCRATS VOTE AGAINST ADMINISTRATION

Many Senators Explain Their Votes and Take Various Views As to the Result As a Vote of Confidence In President Wilson's Policy — Borah Says It Merely Shows That the United States Senate Could Be
"Germanized," and That It Could Be Dictated to
By the Same Process That the Kaiser Used From the Throne—Controversy Now Is Awaiting Action In the House Where the Administration Forces Hope For the Same Satisfactory Result As In the Senate.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, March 3.—By a vote of 68 to 14, a much greater majority than they expected, the administration forces in the senate today tabled Senator Gore's resolution to warn Americans off the armed ships of the European belligerents and thereby finally quelled in the senate an agitation which has embarrassed President Wilson in the submarine negotiations with Germany.

Senator Gore's resolution, a substitute by Senator Mc-Cumber, a Republican, and an attempt by Senator Gore to strengthen his original proposal, all were defeated at one time on a roll call on a motion by Senator James,
one of the administration whips.

The administration victory in the senate transferred the fight to the house.

It was said at the White House that the result in the senate was satisfactory and met the wishes of President Wilson. It was added that attention now would be concentrated on the situation in the house.

Senator Gore himself voted to table his resolution. Senators Chamberlain and O'Gorman were the only Democrats to vote against the administration. The other twelve anti-administration votes were all Republican. Forty-seven Democrats and twenty-one Republicans voted to table the resolution.

During the roll call Senator Smoot, Republican, asked to be excused from voting because he was not able to vote direct on the proposition.
Senator Borah, Republican, objected, but the senate voted to excuse him.
When Senator Stone's name was called he arose to explain that Senator Saulsbury, Democrat, was absent on account of illness. He said that if present, Senator Saulsbury would have voted aye on the original resolution.

"Senator Borah, misunderstanding that Senator Stone was explaining the vote of a colleague, objected.

"If this senate is going to be gagged, the senator from Missouri will be gagged with the rest of us," Senator Borah shouted.

When order was restored Senator Stone explained that he had said,
"on this resolution I vote aye."

There was some uncertainty among senators as to the status of the various resolutions when the roll call had begun.

It was explained that Senator James had moved to lay not only the Gore warning resolution but also the so-called corrected resolution on the table. It was necessary then for senators to express themselves as to warning and on the question of the killing of an American on an unarmed merchantman as a cause for war, in one vote.

For that reason Senator Gore voted to table because he did not favor his own substitute and had introduced it merely to get an expression of the senate on that issue.

n to his original resolution and to his original resolution and which was tabled with the warning resolution was as follows:

"Resolved by the senate, the house of representatives concurring, that the sinking by a German submarine of an unarmed merchant vessel of her public enemy, resulting in the death of a citizen of the United States, would constitute a just and sufficient cause of war between the United States and the German empire."

Several senators explained that the double form of the question was responsible for the character of the vote as few senators wanted to vote on the question regarding a cause of war.

The vote on the motion to table the Gore correction was so framed that it also tabled the Gore resolution itself, Senator McCumber's substitute and all other proposals.

The roll call was on Senator James' motion to table the original Gore resolution and all substitutes. The vote was 68 to 14. This served to kill also the McCumber substitute and the Gore correction.

While the senate was voting, house leaders were working. There was no doubt that the administration victory in the senate was expected to modify the sentiment in the house and the leaders looked for some favorable developments during the day. President Wilson, after he had conferred with Acting Chairman Pou of the rules committee, determined to have a vote in the house even if special rule containing a resolution was required to get it.

Insistence that a vote be taken by rules committee, action, if necessary, came after varying reports as to the stand of the foreign affairs committee. As yet no resolution had been agreed upon in the lower committee which would command a majority vote, and there was no positive assurance today that any resolution would be reported by it.

Man Flood expressed the hope that a satisfactory resolution would be drawn today and reported when the committee meets this afternoon.

Administration leaders in the house were hopeful that it would be unnecessary to report a resolution in a rule. It is taken for granted that Republicans would fight such a rule and with one exception such action is unprecedented.

Mr. Pou told members of the rules committee that he regarded the present situation above partisan politics and for that reason there would be no secret sessions of the Democratic members to arrive at some plan of action. He wants a non-partisan vote.

Immediately after the vote in the senate, Senator Reed, Democrat, read a statement saying he felt it was highly important that the impression in Germany that the country and congress was not behind the president should be removed and that therefore he was opposed to the Gore resolution.

"It is of the highest importance," said he, "that all the world understand that on any question of the rights of the American government or the American citizen our great people stand as a unit and it should be understood that they will uphold, sustain and defend those rights, if necessary, to the last breath."

In connection with his statement, Senator Reed assailed the sensational discussion in the senate yesterday.

"I believe the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," said he. "There has been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States 1000 men who would assert the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

"I utterly abhor and repudiate the statements attributing to any one the desire to act against the interests of the United States, merely because of his conclusion that he will be in accord with the interests of the supporters of one of the belligerents."

Senator Jones, Republican, declared the tabling of the resolution had further fogged rather than clarified any issue.

"Nothing has been decided today, except that the senate of the United States can be gagged absolutely," said he. "We have not passed on the issue. We have only done like the ostrich and in the face of danger have covered our heads in the sand. I voted against the resolution on general principles. A motion to table is always made either to cut off debate or to avoid an issue."

"Have we complied with the request of the president? What did he say to Representative Pou? That he felt justified in asking permission to urge an early vote on the resolution in order to give an opportunity for full public discussion, and this is the full public discussion we have."

"Perhaps the senator from Washington is not in touch with the subterranean passageway to the White House," suggested Senator Borah.

"It is easy to introduce another resolution," continued Senator Jones. "The senate has not settled the issue yet. The president is not advised of the sentiment of the senate on this proposition, and the people of this country and the nations abroad know it." He expressed the hope that the discussion would serve to prevent any Americans taking passage on any ships owned by belligerent nations.

"The nation's anger should hang on the foolhardiness of no man," he said.

In re-introducing his resolution, Senator McCumber protested that debate could not be shut off and that either later today or tomorrow he would call up his resolution.

Senator Clarke, Democrat, of Arkansas, also protested against the senate's action although he voted with the majority. "The senate has not disposed of the question today with the dignity the subject demands," said he. "I believe that if we had been absolutely neutral from the beginning," added Senator Clarke, "that the unfortunate struggle in Europe would now be well on its way to an adjustment. There is no overlooking the fact that all declarations of this government have led in a certain direction; that official America at least was interested in the success of one of the contestants, and it does not require much ingenuity to determine which. I do not think that the view of official Washington is the view of the American people or of the American congress."

"I did not favor the provisions of the Gore resolution as it was introduced. It sought to ask us to give up the privilege of traveling on armed ships. It was unnecessary to go that far. I am perfectly willing to let a citizen of the United States travel as he wants, but I am unwilling to let him make his travels the subject of international controversy. The resolution was designed with the purpose of getting the senators to vote down something they really favored. It is time enough for this nation to go to war when there is a real cause."

Senator Gallinger, Republican, said as the only New England senator to vote not to table the Gore resolution, he was entitled to explain his vote.

"I think we are entitled to debate this question in the open," said he. "By our action today we have reached no conclusions. I am in favor of doing all we can to prevent war and I think it wise to advise against Americans traveling on armed ships."

Senator Borah on the other hand said that he was in favor, after full debate, of having congress go on record as supporting the right of Americans to go on armed merchantmen, a right recognized for 500 years, and to tell the world that any nation which did not recognize that right would be held to a strict accountability.

"We denounce Germany because we do not like her system of government nor her militarism," said Senator Borah. "Yet the senate of the United States, the highest executive body in the world was Germanized today. We took the same attitude and reached the same result by the same process as the highest German legislative body would if directed by the kaiser from the throne."

Senator Borah contended that the vote was of no value to the president as an expression of the sentiment of the senate.

"It is most unfortunate that we disposed of it as we did," he said.

Senator Lewis, Democrat, of Illinois, defended the course of the senate and contended that no more expeditious method could have been adopted to serve notice to the world that the subject matter of the resolutions was overwhelmingly disapproved in the senate.

Senator Gore said he thought the administration victory a mixed one. "I am content," said Senator Gore.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts declared that the senate's attitude could not be confused because of the parliamentary entanglement.

"In tabling the McCumber resolution along with the others," said Senator Lodge. "The senate went on record as opposing direct warning to Americans and against any interference with executive authority. The McCumber resolution slightly modified, is in order, but it will go to the calendar and there will be no effort made to pass it."

When the senate assembled promptly at 11 o'clock practically all the administration senators were in their seats, waiting for the usual round of morning business to be passed over so Senator Stone could make the agreed motion to table the Gore resolution.

To hurry the procedure it was agreed to dispense with reading the journal. The usual grist of memorials and petitions was presented. The floor, crowded with senators and representatives and the galleries packed by a throng which included the president's wife, fairly hummed with expectation.

Senator Gore, author of the resolution which the administration forces were ready to kill and who yesterday made the sensational declaration that he heard President Wilson expected war with Germany, was led to his seat by his secretary, the cynosure of all eyes in the chamber. The administration leaders, confident and prepared, sat back awaiting the proper moment.

Morning business was finally closed and Senator Stone asked that the Gore resolution be laid before the senate.

Senator McCumber, Republican, of North Dakota, offered a substitute to express the sense of the senate that the rules of international law should be revised to meet new conditions of war and that pending negotiations with foreign powers, Americans be requested to refrain from endangering their lives by traveling on armed vessels.

A roll call was then ordered on the proposal to table the Gore resolution.

When the McCumber substitute had been read, Senator Stone called for the Gore resolution and it was laid before the senate.

Thereupon Senator James of Kentucky moved that the resolution and all substitutes be laid on the table. Senator Gore was on his feet asking recognition.

Senator Gore then offered a correction on his resolution to make it declare the sense of the senate that the death of an American citizen on an armed merchant ship would be a just cause for war.

After a brief parliamentary brush he was permitted to submit the correction of his resolution but when he sought to discuss it he was shut off on objection by Senator James. The correction was then read and Senator James moved that it be included in the motion to table the original resolution and all substitutes.

Senate leaders who stand with President Wilson in his assertion of the right of American citizens to travel on armed merchant ships went in today's session determined that all doubt as to the senate's support of the President in the controversy with Germany should be swept away at once. Confident that they had a majority of more than two to one, they prepared to bring immediately to a vote a motion to table and thereby forever kill the resolution of Senator Gore warning Americans not to take passage on vessels carrying arms.

The decision to seek a showdown in the senate today was reached late yesterday after the agitation for a warning resolution had been brought to a dramatic climax in a historic debate by the declaration of Senator Gore that he had heard a report that the President had told congressional leaders in the conference at the White House last week that a war with Germany might not be "an evil to this republic." Senators Stone and Kern, who had attended the conferences, immediately denied that the President had said anything that might be so construed and the denial was reiterated in a White House statement.

A tabling motion was decided on as the best means for final disposal of the Gore resolution when it came up today. Such a motion shuts off debate which leaders of both parties regard as undesirable and likely to aggravate the embarrassment which the President has complained of as resulting from congressional agitation. Administration senators declared as the session began that barely a score of negative votes would be recorded and opposition leaders were convinced they had no chance of winning.

While the plans for ending the agitation once and for all in the senate were shaping up leaders on the house side discussed how the same end might be accomplished there. The problem was to frame a resolution that the foreign affairs committee would report. The majority of the committee members are avowedly opposed to reporting any warning resolution, and when a committee meeting adjourned yesterday they still were talking of substitutes and compromises. It was understood last night that Chairman Flood was to undertake to ascertain whether the house would be satisfied with a resolution providing that the McCumber warning proposal should be tabled, and putting the house on record as recognizing the right of the executive to conduct the administration's foreign affairs.

The committee adjourned to meet at 2:30 this afternoon, by which time it was expected that the issue would have been disposed of finally in the senate. Administration leaders were confident that action in the house acceptable to the President would be forced without much further delay.

Senator Owen, colleague of Senator Gore, who amazed the senate with the report that President Wilson had said the entrance of the United States into the European war might render a service to civilization, conferred with the President this morning and said later he had found Senator Gore's account entirely without foundation.

Senator Owen went to the White House at the request of several other senators to learn the exact status of the international situation before the senator voted on the Gore resolution, warning Americans off armed ships. Senator Owen supported the President by his vote.

Acting Chairman Pou of the house rules committee saw the President and told him a victory for his position was sure for him in the house.

The President declared that he still thought the foreign affairs committee would be able to reach some kind of an agreement to get the question to the floor. He said the rules committee did not plan to move until it was plain that the foreign affairs committee would act.

Mr. Pou discussed the international situation generally with the President so that he could have information for other members of the house. The President reiterated that he did not desire a vote of confidence.

It was indicated that the administration leaders were laying careful plans for bringing the resolution up in the house, but Mr. Pou refused to discuss them.

PORTUGAL FLIES HER FLAG OVER GERMAN STEAMERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, March 3, 11 a. m.—Lloyds agent at Bombay reports that the Portuguese flag has been hoisted on all the German steamers lying at Mormugao and that the Germans who were aboard have been interned at Panjim.

It was recently reported that the Portuguese government after requisitioning all the German and Austrian ships lying in Portuguese harbors had given orders that all Teuton vessels in the Portuguese colonies should be likewise taken over and put under the Portuguese flag.

MORE RHEUMATISM THAN EVER BEFORE

Clergymen, Lawyers, Brokers, Mechanics and Merchants Stricken.

Our old friend Rheumatism is having his inning this year, and a few words of caution from one who knows all about it may not be amiss.

Wear rubbers in damp weather; keep your feet dry; drink plenty of lemonade, and avoid strong alcoholic drinks.

If rheumatism gets you, or sciatica, and you have sharp twinges, gnawing pain or swollen joints or muscles, you can get rid of all agony in just a few days by taking one-half teaspoonful of Rheuma once a day.

All druggists know about Rheuma; it's harmless yet powerful; cheap, yet sure, and a 50-cent bottle will last a long time. Ask T. J. Evans or any druggist.

Another Demonstration of Value Giving Takes Place in Every Department Tomorrow

In view of constantly rising prices due to the scarcity of dye stuffs and the non-importation of raw materials, the unusually low prices attached to our new Spring merchandise should appeal to every thrifty woman. Just for curiosity's sake read carefully the items described below. You will notice that prices are much lower than those quoted elsewhere. Yes, quality is the predominating feature. Nothing finds its way into this store unless it measures up to the high standard of our requirements. Quality is the factor that has built up this successful business and you may rest assured it will never be cheapened in order to make a misleading low price. Here then we have the logical combination that goes to make a thoroughly satisfactory purchase—Quality and moderate price. It is a feat beyond our powers to describe the beauty and magnitude of our early Spring displays. Why not come in and see for yourself and incidentally convince yourself for all time of the progressiveness and superiority of this popular store.

KERN CHARGED WITH MURDER FIRST DEGREE

Augustus O. Kern was brought before Justice Fletcher S. Scott today on an affidavit filed by Prosecutor J. W. Horner charging Kern with murder in the first degree. The affidavit was read to the prisoner, it containing the names of the five men who met death in the Kern Hotel fire on Jan. 6, 1914, and charged that he caused their death by being guilty of causing the burning of the hotel.

Prosecutor Horner represented the state and asked that the prisoner be remanded without bail owing to the degree of crime with which he was charged. Attorney Link Russell appeared for Kern and made a statement to the court on behalf of his client. Justice Scott stated that there was but one alternative for him and that was to remand the prisoner to the county jail without bond until the next session of the grand jury, which will be the first week in April.

Arthur Grubb who confessed to setting fire to the hotel, alleging that he was employed to do so by Kern, stated today that he was much relieved since unburdening himself of the terrible story. He has been very nervous for the past couple of days but relaxation is apparently over and he is now gaining. He has not been able to give the $2,000 bond under which he was placed but hopes to do so within a short time.

Kern's preliminary hearing on the murder charge will be before Squire Scott next Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Bowser Showing Effects of Hard Training; Endurance
and Speed Is Improving

Paul Bowser is showing the effects of the systematic training he has undertaken for the Turner bout, one week from tonight at the Auditorium. His nightly work at the Music Hall gymnasium has increased his speed and strengthened him to such an extent that there is already a noticeable improvement in his staying qualities, which have always exceeded those of his opponent.

past bouts, Bowser has been content with the training obtained in his work as an instructor in the athletic school and what labor he got in the gymnasium, such as building seats, etc. For the coming Turner match he determined to train more seriously with the intention of going on the mat with Turner in the best form he has shown since coming to Newark.

He believes that a slight improvement in speed and endurance will make him a better man than Turner, unless Turner also shows much improvement. At any rate, that Police Gazette belt and the title it carries are sufficient incentives for him to put forth his best efforts.

Turner will find himself in the hottest battle of his career next week and Newark fans, realizing this have already set up a clamor for ringside seats. Seats on the main floor of the Auditorium, where the bout will be held will be placed on sale early next week.

Good preliminaries are being arranged for the match. There is every indication that there will be a large attendance from out of town.

FIRE DAMAGES
MAYBOLD HOME
AT EARLY HOUR

Fire which started about 2 o'clock this morning caused a loss estimated at $200 to the kitchen of the home of George Maybold, 173 Hudson avenue. The origin of the blaze has not been determined by the fire department officials.

The blaze started on the outside in a corner where the kitchen joins the main structure. When the department arrived, the blaze had eaten its way to the roof and was communicating with the main part of the building.

Lines of hose quickly laid by the firemen enabled the department to knock out the fire before it had done any considerable damage to the front part of the house, though the roof practically was burned away.

An investigation as to the possible origin failed to reveal any reason why the fire should have started at that particular point and Fire Chief Bausch is at a loss to state what caused the blaze.

BUCKEYE LAKE

be ably assisted by the park management.

The fact that Crane Lake is to be improved and beautified will be pleasing news to the cottagers at that end of the park. The plans are not fully matured but all of the ungainly and unsightly boat houses will probably be removed and arrangements made to care for the power boats in a much more satisfactory manner.

Car stalls will be built and a park space will be reserved for auto owners and a police officer will be on constant duty at the place. The management will have no vandalism and will prosecute any one to the full extent of the law who may be guilty of any misdemeanor along that line.

It can also be authentically stated that a clean-up, painting and redecorating of all the buildings at the park will start at once. It is the intention of the managers to make it an attractive place for those seeking rest and recreation. Details of all improvements cannot be announced at this time. Suffice to say that there will be many surprises in store for the public when the park is thrown open for the summer season.

As an illustration that no little details will be overlooked it is announced that there will be an information booth in charge of a capable person installed in the interurban waiting room. Persons having cottages to rent, by day, week or month, those desiring boarders, all who wish to rent cottages, boats, or paraphernalia, can leave word at the information booth and their wants will be looked after.

It is also the intention to establish an athletic field. This plan will have to be worked out a little later. This will be a pleasing news to those interested in baseball, tennis and all athletic sports.

A conference between the new managers and the officials of the Buckeye Lake Yacht club has been held and another will take place at Columbus this evening just before the Tar Social is started. There will be harmonious co-operation between them and they will work together for the lake's betterment.

Supt. F. J. Moore of Columbus is working upon a schedule for the park leading from Dayton, Springfield, Columbus, Zanesville and ark. In all probability through train service to the lake will start this year on April 16, much earlier than heretofore. The announcement of the new schedule will be ready in a few days.

G. M. Trimmer of Lancaster has been appointed excursion agent and started out today in the interest of the park. He has had considerable experience and it is an assured fact that he will bring many new patrons to the park this summer when the excursion season opens.

The new managers assure the public one of the best amusement resorts of any inland waters in the country. They will have the best wishes of the thousands who annually journey to the Atlantic City of Ohio, beautiful Buckeye Lake park and surroundings.

FRENCH REPORT
MORE VIOLENCE
OF THE BATTLE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, March 3, 3:20 p. m.—Bombardments and attacks on the part of German troops continued all yesterday evening in the region to the north of Verdun, according to announcement made by the French war office this afternoon. The fighting was conducted with redoubled violence.

Near Douaumont several fruitless endeavors on the part of the Germans were repulsed with cruel losses for them. Nevertheless the Germans succeeded in reaching the village of Douaumont where the fighting continues with ferocity.

The village of Vaux also was attacked by the Germans but these advances were checked by the French fire and the Germans were compelled to retire, leaving a great number of dead.

The bombardment continued with great intensity yesterday evening and last night in the Woevre district, but French forces held the Germans in check by their curtain of fire. The artillery of the Germans has been active in the vicinity of Malancourt and near Haucourt.

The court held that if liquors are carried into the state for lawful purposes the criminal statutes are adequate remedy to correct the abuses.

No Rest Then for Mrs. Mike Beechec Until Nerv-Worth Brought Rest.

The words of praise from neighborhood users of this world's greatest nerve tonic comes from Mr. Mike Beechec, who lives out on rural route No. 6, Zanesville. Here they are:

Nerv-Worth Co.—Since Christmas my wife has been bothered with gas on her stomach and her heart bothered her a great deal. She had no appetite at all and would wake up in the middle of the night and would be restless till morning.

We gave her one bottle of Nerv-Worth, and she is much better. She has no heart trouble now and nothing wrong with her stomach.

We think it a fine medicine and all the family are taking it now.

MIKE BEECHEC.
This reinforces the Nerv-Worth claim. Nerv-Worth is a family nerve tonic—the world's best.
Dollar back at the T. J. Evans drug store, Warden hotel block, if Nerv-Worth does not help you.

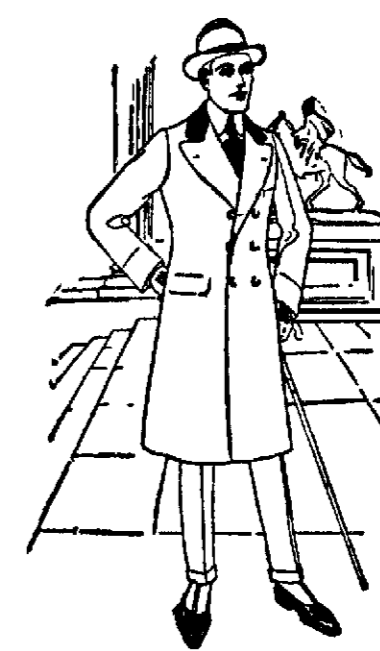

Charles Dickens Ever Young.

Charles Dickens had the gift of perpetual youthfulness. "This is my birthday," he wrote on February 7, 1839, "Lord bless my soul! Twenty-seven years of age. Who'd have thought it? I never did!" And that attitude of surprise at the flight of years, which wrought no ageing effect upon the heart, was characteristic of him to the end. He refused to accept the evidence of photographs. "It might be a satisfactory picture of the Ancient Mariner," he remarked of one portrait, but it was not himself.—London Chronicle.

Interesting Figures.

The enterprising Defiance Crescent News, after hearing Governor Willis make some economy claims, made inquiry at the office of the state's book-keeper, A. V. Donahey. Here is what was learned:

"Did Governor Willis tell the good Republicans of Defiance county that the expenses of operating the governor's office the last year under Cox cost $27,169 and the first year under Governor Willis it cost $30,900? This is interesting when you know that his own office is really the only one that he can control as to expenditures. Governor Willis in 1914 denounced Cox as extravagant, and said that he would show the people of Ohio real economy. He can not even control his own expenses of his own office. My taking into consideration the fact that Governor Cox spent about $1,000 in 1914, for equipment for the governor's office, you will find that Governor Willis has exceeded Governor Cox in operating expenses of the governor's office 17 1/2 per cent. Governor Willis had no expenditures for carpets and furniture as the adjutant general under a law has been furnishing the same since 1914."

The Crescent News might have added the comment that when the matter of salary reduction came up in the legislature Willis would not permit his own salary nor those of his office helpers to be cut; and that with all his economy bluff and reduction laws his pet Insurance Superintendent Frank Taggart, ignoring the statute passed to cut his salary to $4,500, still draws pay at the old figure of $6,000 a year.

Public Dances.

The season just before Lent is a time when in large towns and many small ones, big public dances are held. Firemen, police, hospitals, lodges, have annual glorifications. The philosophical observer finds these functions not lacking in human interest, since they assemble such various types of people. An organization may be aristocratic. But usually it needs funds, and the price of a ticket from almost anyone looks good. However, if it is desired to be very choice, raising the admission is supposed to assure all virtue. But not every man who wears a "dress suit" is a gentleman.

People who attend many such affairs in various cities say they have never seen more freak dancing than this year. When the dance craze was at its height, the dancers were at least attending classes, usually under teachers possessing some sense. Many eccentricities were toned down.

Now all the younger sets have learned a repertoire of new steps, with originally improvised variations. They have become convinced that for style it is necessary to hop, skip, jump, wiggle, and twist. So date persons watch with amazement, and deplore the new dancing.

The old steps though have regained much of former vogue. Old timers who occupied the wall while the kids were tangoing, are again cutting jocund pigeon wings in quadrilles and contras. The festive voice of the prompter again resounds, though one sometimes needs a practiced ear to tell what he says.

The diversion would be far more healthful if it did not cover such unearthly hours. It was one of the merits of the recent dance craze that it was mostly done in classes taking a two hour session and sending people home early. But after you have paid for hall, orchestra, and refreshments, it seems necessary to run it to the limit, thereby acquiring a headache for next day.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Times, an excellent newspaper, apparently takes delight in criticism of the Washington government. Nothing that the President does seems to suit. The Gazette-Times would do things in a different way and of course, a little better. The Pittsburgh editor should note the attitude taken by Republican leader Mann and other broad gauge statesmen who in this crisis are putting America first and politics second.

It is claimed in Europe that the Americans worship dollars, but that is better than worshipping guns.

President and the Nation.

(New York Globe.)

Of the citizens of the country the President is the one whose opinion is most entitled to weight concerning matters of foreign policy. He has fullest information. His intelligence is denied by no honest-minded person. The good faith of his desire for peace no one questions. His judgment is instructed by the fact that on him rests the greatest responsibility, so reason supports eager patriotism in the conclusion that in case of doubt his leadership is to be accepted and followed.

The President has earned the right to be considered a man of patience and caution. The criticism against him that has had the most bite is that he has been too greatly disposed to go slow. In the protracted and trying negotiations with Germany he has shown his willingness to condone admitted offenses rather than the fact that the future rather than the past, was sought to adjust differences. Even Mr. Bryan does not challenge the fact that he is a peace-at-almost-any-price man. Such being his record, he is entitled at the present time, both as President and as a patient President, to the fullest and complete support.

The President declares that he cannot consent to any abridgment of the rights of American citizens in any respect. He sees that in the proposal of Germany to change international law without the consent of other nations "the honor and the respect of the nation are involved." He is of the belief that "to forbid our people to exercise their rights for fear we might be called upon to vindicate them would be a deep humiliation indeed." If one belligerent can change accepted rules with our acquiescence we consent in advance to changes at pleasure by other belligerents, and "the whole fabric of international law might crumble under our hands piece by piece." The men of Concord would not consent to the violation of the principle of no taxation without representation even though the particular taxation laid on them was small and inconsequential and it was tended by the Tories that the practical advantages of yielding would be great. The spirit of the embattled farmers possesses the President rather than that of those men of Boston who said that new developments had made ancient rights archaic and that the British parliament was thus warranted in no longer strictly regarding them.

The most recent German contention is not only opposed to international law but is violative of the explicit pledge given by Germany after the sinking of the Arabic. It will be recalled that Germany declared: "Liners will not be sunk by our submarines without warning and without safety of the lives of the passengers, provided the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance." The pledge was not confined to unarmed liners. It applied to all liners that did not try to flee or offer resistance. The present dispute will disappear if Germany will stick to her word.

That which Germany now proposes to do would not be to the interest of Germany even though this country should acquiesce in it. Instead of strengthening the German blockade of Great Britain it would greatly strengthen the British blockade of Germany. If we should grant to Germany the privilege of changing international law we would be compelled to grant a similar privilege to Great Britain. If international law is dissolved Great Britain could easily adopt methods making her blockade of Germany more thorough. It may be suspected that the British Admiralty would be pleased to set aside international law for the remainder of the war. If naval commanders are to have more freedom of action than is now legal the benefit of the enlargement of freedom may be claimed by overseas as well as undersea boats, and the net result would not be to Germany's advantage. Other reasons than an indisposition to offend this country will thus press on Germany to return to allegiance to her former pledge.

Whatever may be the attitude of the disintegrationists, who are either disloyal to this country or willing for political reasons to cater to disloyalists, it is a certainty that the overwhelming majority of the country, in the good, old-fashioned American way, will support the policy and follow the leadership of the President.

Congress Or Reichstag?

(New York World.)

President Wilson did not ask Congress for a vote of confidence in his foreign policy.

He asked Congress to take decisive action one way or the other in regard to certain resolutions that reverse the foreign policy of the Administration and nullify established principles of international law.

In his letter to Mr. Poincaré the President asked for neither the adoption nor the defeat of these resolutions. He asked only that they be brought to a vote "in order that there may be afforded an opportunity for full public discussion and action upon them, and that all doubts and conjectures may be swept away, and our foreign relations once more cleared of damaging misunderstandings."

While these resolutions are pending the hands of the President are tied. He cannot renew his protests against Germany's submarine methods while the possibility exists that congress is in sympathy with Germany rather than with the President. He cannot carry on negotiations that relate to the rights of neutrals on the high seas until he knows definitely whether Congress intends to sustain the American or the German interpretation of international law.

Already the opinion is prevalent in Germany that Congress has repudiated the President and that the Tirpitz theory of neutral rights has been approved by the war-making branch of the United States Government. While that opinion prevails, Germany will care little what the President says or does. It knows that he is helpless if Congress is against him, and that if Congress is in sympathy with Germany's attempt to create new international law by imperial fiat it makes little difference what the President thinks.

As for the President, he cannot be expected to protect American rights on the high seas unless he knows whether he and Congress agree as to what constitutes American rights. The McInerney resolution, the Gore resolution and the Jones resolution are diametrically opposite to the President's views and unqualifiedly sustain the Tirpitz view. Such an issue must be settled at once if the foreign relations of the United States are not to fall into inextricable confusion.

If Congress wishes to adopt these resolutions, let it have the courage of its cowardice. Then all the world will know just where the United States stands in respect to submarine warfare. If it wishes to defeat these resolutions, well and good. Then all the world will again know that the United States has not changed its traditional attitude toward the rights of neutrals and the obligations of belligerents. All doubt must be dissipated. Doubt alone might easily plunge us into war.

Nobody is seeking to deprive Congress of its power or responsibility. But the American people have a right to know without delay whether Congress is still Congress or whether it is an annex to the German Reichstag.

Congress Should Speak.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

The president's call for vote in congress on the question of warning Americans not to take passage on merchant ships armed for defense is timely. Congressmen have now had opportunity fully to consider the effect of such a warning on international relations and our ability to give protection to Americans outside of their own country. They have heard from home on the subject, and they should be glad to express the judgment of the American people and make it plain to the world that the people are or are not behind the President in his negotiations, particularly with Germany. Any who would prefer to dodge the issue and falsely get credit for favoring both policies ought to be smoked out and made to stand on one side or the other. Moreover, it is fair to Germany and the other powers to make it known without equivocation or doubt where the United States stands. In no other way can the United States play the part that it should in self-respect play in this crisis in world affairs.

LOVE NOTE

TO WIFE WHOM WALTER WATSON WAS ELECTROCUTED FOR MURDERING

Left by Him With Faded Flower in Sealed Envelope, Opened After Execution.

Ossining, N. Y., March 3.—Walter Watson of Brooklyn was electrocuted at Sing Sing this morning for the murder of his wife a year ago. Watson who protested his innocence to the last, left a sealed envelope to be opened after his death. In it was found a faded flower and this note: "This envelope contains a flower from my dear wife's grave. Please bury it with me and let it be on my breast. It is a token of remembrance of the wife I always loved and may God rest our souls in peace."

Watson was separated from his wife at the time of the murder which he was supposed to have committed while under the influence of drink.

NOTED FRENCH TRAGEDIAN IS DEAD, AGED 75.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, March 3, 6:43 a. m.—Jean Mounet-Sully, the celebrated French tragedian and dean of the Comedie Francaise, is dead at the age of 75. Jean Mounet-Sully was born at Bergerac, department of the Dordogne, France, on February 27, 1841. He studied at the Paris conservatory under Bressant and made his first appearance at the Oden, playing in King Lear with Madame Sarah Bernhardt. He served in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71 as an officer in the army of the Loire and acquitted himself with great bravery and distinction.

TWO ARE DEAD AS RESULT OF COLLISION IN ALBANY YARDS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Albany, N. Y., March 3.—Two men are known to be dead, a third was probably fatally injured and two others are believed to have been killed in a rear-end collision in the North Albany yards of the New York Central railroad here this morning. The dead and injured men were express messengers as was one of the missing men. The fifth is believed to have been a tramp.

A heavy eastbound freight struck a train loaded with express, which was waiting to enter the Albany station.

A third train also loaded with express and westbound crashed into the wreckage, throwing debris in all directions. None of the trainmen was seriously hurt.

MAY CHANGE DATE OF TOURNAMENT FOR TENNIS TITLE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, March 3.—Many of the foremost women lawn tennis players of this country have been invited by George T. Ade, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association to vote on the question of changing the date of the Women's National championship tournament from June 7, to a date in September. The championships are to be played on the courts of the Philadelphia cricket club.

Mr. Ade said in explanation of his action that to hold the championships in June would not be a fitting climax to the tennis season and that few of the leading women players could be expected to be playing their best game in June.

DIAMOND THIEF GOT AWAY WITH $25,000 WORTH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, March 3.—The theft of diamonds said to be valued at more than $25,000 from Dreicer and company, jewelers was reported to the police early today.

According to Edward L. Smith, manager of the concern, a well dressed man entered the store yesterday and asked to see some diamond rings. Smith brought out three trays, each containing twelve rings. After ten minutes conversation with Manager Smith over the prospective merits of the rings, the customer left the place declaring himself dissatisfied.

Smith says he accompanied the stranger to the door and when he returned one of the trays with the diamonds was missing.

Crater Lake's Gamy Trout.

Whether it be from the temperature or the quality of the water is not known, but it is the testimony of experienced anglers that, pound for pound, Crater lake trout are harder fighters than trout found elsewhere. "Around the edges of the lake," said the general superintendent of the park, "there is no foliage to entangle your hook and line, and it is the ideal place for the amateur fisherman. When I was there the lake was so clear that you could see to a depth of forty feet. The first fish I caught I saw take the fly. I saw every motion of his body until I finally landed him on the bank, which I only did with the aid of one of the concessioners in the park. I do not know of any other place in the world where an amateur fisherman can swing his fly in any direction without danger of catching it on some twig and when he hooks his fish watch every motion as he fights for freedom. I agree with Emerson Hough in every word that he has said about fishing in Crater lake."

District of Columbia.
The municipal government of the District of Columbia, including the entire city and adjoining territory, is vested by act of congress in three commissioners, two of whom are appointed by the president from citizens of the district having had three years' residence therein immediately preceding their appointment and confirmed by the senate. The other commissioner is detailed by the president of the United States from the corps of engineers of the United States army and must have lineal rank senior to captain or be a captain who has served at least fifteen years in the corps of engineers of the army. The commissioners appoint nearly all the subordinate official service of said government except the board of education, which is appointed by the supreme court of the District of Columbia. There is not an elective officer in the District and the people living there have no vote in a presidential or other election.

Legends of the Red Rose.

As to the origin of the rose there is a legend that a Jewish maid of Bethlehem (whom Southern names Zillah) was beloved by one Ham'ul, a brutish sot. Zillah rejected his suit, and Ham'ul vowed vengeance. He gave out that Zillah was a demoniac, and she was condemned to be burned, but God averted the flames, the stake budged, and the maid stood unharmed under a rose tree full of red and white roses, "then first seen on earth since paradise was lost."

From other sources it would appear that the rose was first white, and the Turks say it was colored with the blood of Mohammed and will never suffer the flower to lie on the ground, while, contrary to this, the Greeks hold that it derived its color from the blood of Venus when she trod on a thorn of the white thorn when going to the assistance of the dying Adonis.

The Jocosse Gods.

What humor could be wider than that of life itself? Franz Schubert on his deathbed read the complete works of J. Fenimore Cooper. Richard Wagner made a living during four years arranging Italian opera series for the cornet. Thomas Henry Huxley's wife called him "Hal." Herbert Spencer sang bass in a barber shop quartet and was in love with George Eliot. William Shakespeare was a social pusher and bought him a bogus coat of arms. Bismarck was afraid of his mother. The greatest soldier in Hungarian history was named Hungadi Janos.—Owen Hatteras in Smart Set.

A New York bellhop who bought a hotel had a code for the art of getting tips which is as follows:
Play the honeymooners hard. Newly wed men like to make a splurge before their brides.
Don't waste time on "big bugs." Shower attention on the women. If they tip at all they tip liberally.
Don't "stall." Do your part and then leave it to the guest.
Don't persecute tightwads. Shame them with faultless service.
Don't make yourself obnoxious by greed for tips.
Above all, save.—Exchange.

Self Sacrifice.

No man has ever sacrificed himself in the common meaning of that phrase, which is self sacrifice for another alone. Men make daily sacrifice for others, but it is for their own sake first. They must content their own spirit first. A man must feel better for doing a duty than he would for shirking it.

Take the case of the Berkeley Castle, a British troopship crowded with soldiers and their wives and children. There was room in the boats for the women and children only. The colonel lined up his regiment on the deck and said, "It is our duty to die that they may be saved." There was no murmur, no protest. The boats carried away the women and children. When the death moment was come the colonel and his officers took their several posts, the men stood at "present," and so, as on dress parade, with their bayonets fixed to the muzzles of their rifles and the drums beating, they went down, a sacrifice to duty for duty's sake. They were soldiers with a soldier's pride—a soldier's self respect. They had to content a soldier's spirit.—Mark Twain.

Brush Your Tongue.

Brush your teeth. By all means brush your teeth religiously and well, but for pity's sake brush your tongue too. Wield your brush backward and forward, under and over, to the north, to the south, to the east and west, scour it with fervor, for it is in truth a tiny forest of dense foliage wherein lurks the unseen enemy.

Every time you open your mouth a whole regiment of little microbes charge through the aperture and take up quarters somewhere in the confines of your chewing apparatus. Seek them out and annihilate them before sleep enfolds you, for, fortified with an enormous capacity for work, they rest not, neither do they weary, and you may awaken in the morning to find whole companies firmly entrenched in the middle of your tongue. If you can't conceive of your own particular organ being so invaded take a microscope and mirror and get busy.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Terrible Abyss.

The greatest ocean depth yet sounded is 31,200 feet, near the island of Guam. If Mount Everest, the world's highest mountain, were plucked from its seat and dropped into this spot the waves would roll 2,000 feet about its crest. Into this terrible abyss the waters press down with a force more than 10,000 pounds to the square inch. The staunchest ship ever built would be crumpled under this awful pressure like an egg shell under a steam roller. A pine beam fifteen feet long which held open the mouth of the trawl used in making a cast at a depth of more than 15,000 feet was crushed flat as if it had been passed between rollers. The body of the man who should attempt to venture to such depths would be compressed into the flesh was forced into the interstices of the bone and his trunk was no larger than a rolling pin. Still the body would reach the bottom.—Pearson's Weekly.

How Plants Die.

That plants die like animals we all know, but we do not know the exact moment when they die. For hours a dead plant seems alive. There is no twitch, no death spasm. A scientist has, however, succeeded not only in noting the precise moment when a plant gives up its life, but in recording its death spasm. The plant is heated very gradually so as to avoid all excitation. This is done by placing the plant in a water bath the temperature of which is continuously raised by the application of a gas or spirit flame. At 60 degrees C. a spasmodic extraction takes place. All attempts to obtain response after this fall, even though the plant is cooled down to its normal temperature. This death temperature of 60 degrees is constant for all plants.

Eyes of a Bird.

Fishes and birds have an advantage over human beings in their ability to see on both sides of them. Their eyes are set not for looking straight ahead, but for looking out on each side. That is because they balance their bodies to right or to left, while we balance forward and backward. A bird can watch the tips of both wings at once. The pilot of an aeroplane has to turn his head from side to side to see his wing tips.

Foreshadowed.

Madge—Why did you throw him over? Mabel—He would have been a very parsimonious husband. Madge—But he fairly lavished money on you during the engagement. Mabel—Yes; but as soon as we began to talk honeymoon the first thing he did was to look up excursion rates.—Judge.

Inconsistency.

Mrs. Bacon—He's a very inconsistent man.

Mrs. Egbert—Indeed?

"Yes. Why, he tried to break his boy of being left handed, and he could only punish the little fellow with his left hand."—Yonkers Statesman.

A Great Effort.

"Quiet, children, quiet!" says the German mother in Filigende Blatter. "Father is tired to death. He wrote a letter today that will go so very far—all the way to America."

Take Along a Hammer.

TRICKLING OF BLOOD THROUGH EARTH CRUST

BROUGHT HOPE TO ENTOMBED FRENCH SAPPERS OF BEING NEAR SURFACE.

Had Given Up in Despair and Contemplated Suicide as Quick Means of Death.

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, March 2, 5:45 a. m.—(Delayed.)—The story of the three French sappers, who were buried alive for hours during the battle of Verdun and who finally dug their way out to safety, is told in detail by one of them, who arrived in Paris on a hospital train this morning. He said:

"With my friends, Bernard and Jean, I was posted in a trench at the edge of the Vauche woods. The enemy showed a disposition to attack and, according to orders, the three of us, with a charge of powder, fuses and tools, started down a mine gallery, to fill the mine chamber, to lay the wires and to pack the gallery behind it. We did this without difficulty, and were on our way back when a heavy explosion shook us. Had our mine gone off already?"

"I hear stones falling," said one of my comrades. We rushed forward, the gallery was full of gravel. We realized the horrible truth; we were walled up. An enemy shell had exploded above the gallery, causing the roof to fall in.

"We examined the walls in feverish haste.

"We are done for," said Jean. "We are not afraid of death, it was part of the game; but we did not like to die there in the darkness."

"How long can we stay in here?" Jean asked again.

"There is plenty of air and the gallery is roomy, but there is nothing to eat," I replied.

"Well, what's the good of a few hours more or less?" he said. "Why wait? I for one have already made up my mind. He took out his revolver but I stopped him and said, 'Don't be a fool. Let us wait a while, we may hit on some way out.'"

"The first horror having passed over, we began to discuss ways and means. Let us wait patiently for our mine to explode. If it makes a big enough hole we can dig through into it," we said.

"We sat down in silence and could hear all the sounds of battle above us, for the earth is a good conductor of sound. We tried to distinguish the character of the various vibrations, so as not to miss the noise when our mine exploded. Finally we heard it and we rushed forward through a wave of hot air. Hope strengthened our arms and we picked our picks furiously, but our packing had been so well done that it took us two hours before we got into the empty mine chamber. I listened, but the sound of firing seemed so far off that I judged there was a thick layer of earth between us and the outer world. Then drops fell upon us. Were we going to be flooded? So much the better," said Jean. "We shall die more quickly."

"Something trickled down on my lips and I recognized the taste. It was blood and I realized that if blood was coming through we could not be far from the surface. With renewed hope we set to work again, but rather clumsily, for we started a fall of earth which nearly buried us. We were all injured. Bernard's leg being broken, Jean's head cut and my left arm broken. Despite our pain we continued our efforts and after a while we came on a number of dead bodies of Germans, which had rolled to the bottom of the crater which the mine explosion had made.

"After an hour of digging and crawling among these bodies, we got out into the air. Both my comrades were so exhausted that they fainted. I watched over them, being sheltered from shells and bullets."

lets fly the steep side of the crater. After eight hours waiting, ambulance attendants found us and by that time we had but little life left in us."

NEXT SUNDAY IS LAST NIGHT OF W. SIDE REVIVAL

The revival meetings conducted by Evangelist MacDonald at the West Side Church of Christ are announced to close next Sunday night. Thirty to close next Sunday night. Thirty people have come forward and others are expected. A Bible class of 26 men was started last Sunday that bids fair to double in the near future. The men are working for 50 for next Sunday. Last night the evangelist preached on "The World's Greatest Tragedy," or "The Crucifixion." Had it not been for the death of Jesus for our sins and the resurrection for our justification we would never have known Him as the world's Saviour. Jesus' great struggle was in Gethsemane. The cross was his victory. It was the victory of Failure. Had he not died we could not have been saved. For "He died for our sins." Pilate said he found no fault in Him. But the Jewish mob would not permit his release so they took Him to Calvary and murdered Him. He was not convicted therefore could not die a criminal but for the world's sins at the hand of the mob. He had done no wrong, therefore, Pilate found no fault in Him. The centurion said: "Surely this must have been the Son of God." Judas said "I have betrayed innocent blood."

Notice the seven sayings from the Cross. He thought of His enemies first. He said: "Father forgive them." Next of the suffering thief, "today shalt thou be with me." Third, of his kingdom, "Mother behold thy Son, behold thy mother." Then he thought of self "I thirst." Then he died as others. "My God, why hast thou forsaken me." Then "It is finished." redemption is finished. The old law nailed to the tree; The veil in the temple rent in twain. So now all can come direct to Him in to the Holy Place of prayer for He is the Lamb slain, and "the High Priest who entered once for all to offer Himself for the Sin of the World." No wonder the sun grew dark and the dead arose. The seventh saying "Into Thy hands I commend My Spirit," is significant.

Mr. Jett sang very effectively "He Died of a Broken Heart." Scimon Sayings. "Without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sins." It takes life to give life. No pretender would have lived and died as Jesus did. Jesus died for us. We should live for Him.

You are what you are by God's grace. Had it not been for Christian parents and home and friends where would you have been tonight. Perhaps deep down in sin. "The blood of Jesus cleanses from all sin."

Announcements. Young People's Social tonight from 9 to 10 o'clock. All Young People invited. Children's meeting Saturday at 2 p. m. Services at the church Saturday evening.

Mr. Evan Price was compelled to kill his valuable Scotch colts last Saturday, as he was pronounced by the veterinary to have symptoms of rabies.

The rally meeting at the church Sunday was a decided success in every way. The committee deserves much credit in making the arrangements. The attendance was good, considering the inclemency of the weather. The regular morning services were held, after which a sumptuous dinner was served. The addresses of Rev. Mr. Stull and Rev. Millard Brelsford were listened to with much interest. At the close of the meeting it was decided that more rally meetings would be a good thing for the church.

Mr. William Fleming, who is attending school at the O. S. U., visited friends here over Sunday and attended church.

MINUTES OF GRAND JURY ARE GUARDED

EVIDENCE SAID TO BEAR ON PLOTS BY PRO-GERMAN PARTISANS.

District Attorney May Submit to Going to Jail Rather Than Surrender Them.

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, March 3.—The congressional committee investigating charges filed by Representative Frank Buchanan of Illinois against United States District Attorney Marshall may decide today whether to force to an issue the question whether it may inspect the minutes of the grand jury which indicted Bachman, David Lamar and others connected with the labor's peace council. The committee has requested Mr. Marshall to submit the minutes and Mr. Marshall has informed them that he will not honor their demands. The district attorney has virtually notified the committee that if the call for the minutes is pressed he will, if necessary, go to the length of permitting himself to be committed for contempt in order to test the committee's powers.

It is contended that if the evidence which the government has gathered concerning the labor plots of pro-German partisans were revealed at this time, serious impediment would be placed in the way of further progress. Mr. Marshall's desire to protect the grand jury minutes is understood to be due to the fact that the investigation of the plots is not concluded and that there may be other indictments.

It has developed today that Mr. Marshall, in declining to surrender the minutes was acting upon the instructions of Attorney-General Gregory in Washington and the district attorney has so informed the committee.

JOHNSTOWN R. F. D. 4

Mr. W. E. McClurg made a business trip to Utica Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dixon spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dixon.

Quite a number from the route attended the Farmers' institute at Johnstown, Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. F. P. Belt made a business trip to Newark, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Powers spent Tuesday with Mr. W. S. Barrick and family.

Mr. J. L. Cullison who has been quite ill is improving at this writing. Mr. Reed Freal and son made a business trip to Utica Saturday.

Mr. R. C. Dixon bought the Ralph Crotinger property one day of last week.

Miss Beatrice Barrick is on the sick list at this writing.

Not Afraid of Cold Steel. In her younger days Eugene, when emperor of the French nation, was noted for her great courage, as the following incident proves.

At a brilliant dinner party a somewhat tactless general told her majesty that women should not meddle in politics.

"You know, madame," he said, "that politics lead to war, and if the worse came to the worst you would not have the nerve to face cold steel."

"Wouldn't I?" cried the empress. "I'll show you!" And, snatching a large knife from the table, she inflicted a deep stab on her arm.

After that the general never broached the subject of woman's lack of nerves again.

You never can tell. Many a fellow who tells a girl he couldn't live without her eventually finds himself tied to her apron strings.

FOUR WEEKS IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Brown Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"For years I suffered so sometimes it seemed as though I could not stand it any longer. It was all in my lower organs. At times I could hardly walk, for if I stepped on a little stone I would almost faint. One day I did faint and my husband was sent for and the doctor came. I was taken to the hospital and stayed four weeks but when I came home I would faint just the same and had the same pains."

A friend who is a nurse said for me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it that very day for I was suffering a great deal. It has already done me more good than the hospital. To anyone who is suffering as I was my advice is to stop in the first drug-store and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before you go home."—Mrs. W. C. Brown, 1109 Auburn Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

Dayton Mothers Find Ideal Croup and Cold Treatment

Nothing to Swallow, You Just Rub It Over Throat and Chest—Relieves by Inhalation as a Vapor and by Absorption Through the Skin.

Croup is Usually Relieved in Fifteen Minutes—Most Colds go over Night.

A few winters ago, when Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve was first introduced from the South, the local druggists presented complimentary jars to a few of their customers, requesting that this preparation be given a thorough trial, and the results reported. Below, we give a few reports from Dayton people.

Mothers who have never used Vick's Vap-O-Rub owe it to their children to give it at least one trial. The little chaps object so to swallowing medicine that it is a relief to have a preparation which you can just rub on over throat and chest. Then cover with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the covering loose around the neck, as the body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, all night long, carry the medication through the air passages to the lungs. Vick's won't blister, and is absolutely harmless to the smallest child. Here is what Dayton mothers say of it:

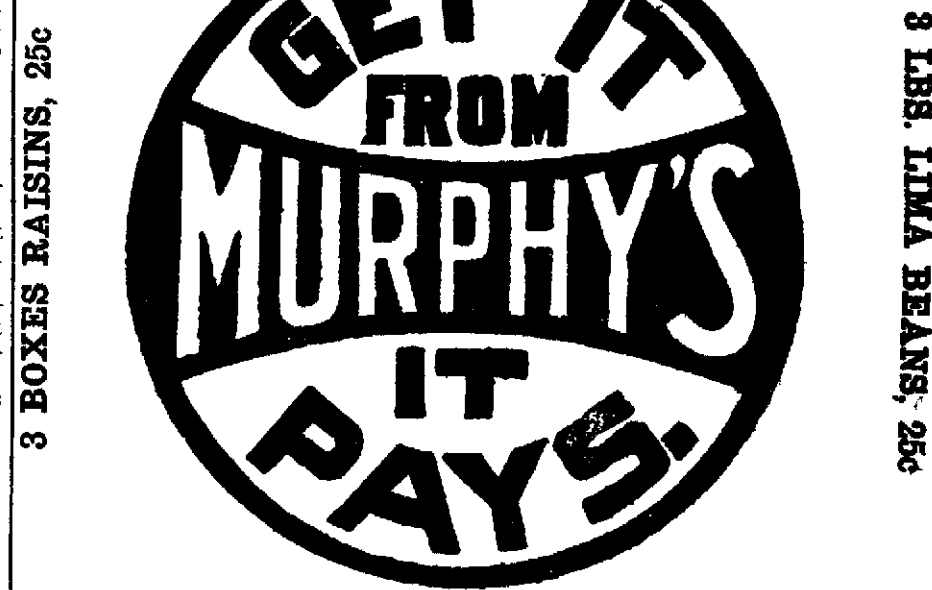

MRS. THOMAS JEFFERSON, 1634 Germantown St.:—"My little boy was taken with a severe case of croup a few weeks ago, and after trying everything I know without finding much relief, a druggist gave me a jar of Vick's Vap-O-Rub, which I used with splendid results. I also had it a fine remedy for headache, and shall always keep it in my home hereafter."

MRS. W. E. CALLOM, 1314 Wayne Avenue:—"Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve is all that you claim it to be. We used it on our four year old daughter to break up a cold that had been running two months, and that seemed to defy two of our best doctors. I shall use it in all future cases."

MRS. JOR. W. CARR, 1224 S. Wayne Ave., writes:—"I have tried your Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve for sore throat and colds, and think it is certainly excellent. It seems to penetrate, and give almost instant relief. I find it loosens the cold in the head by inhaling the vapors."

Vick's will be found superior to internal medicines for all forms of cold troubles, from head colds, asthmatic and catarrhal troubles, down to deep chest colds, grippe, bronchitis, or incipient pneumonia. Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00, at all druggists.

Tooth Loose? Watch out for Pyorrhea!

When you find a tooth that gives back and forth, even just a little, see your dentist at once.

He will find conditions which you might overlook. He will find a gum recession, even though slight, where the gums have pulled away from the teeth. And he will tell you that you have the dread disease pyorrhea.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sentinel Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Indoor Life Makes Fat

Try Oil of Korein to Keep Weight Down, or to Reduce Superfluous Fat.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to W. A. Erman, Evans Drug Store or a good druggist and get a box of oil of korein capsules, and take one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return to the old energy; footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.

Urges Everyone To Quickly Get On Water Wagon

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, etc., so those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

FATHER REQUESTS POLICE CHIEF TO KILL SICK BABY

Des Moines, March 3.—The action of Dr. Harry J. Haiselden of Chicago in permitting the death of the deformed Bollinger baby several months ago, was recalled yesterday in this city by Charles Cleveland, a laborer, who asked the chief of police for assistance in killing his two-months-old daughter.

Cleveland spoke with discouraged earnestness.

"Chief," he said, "won't you tell me how I can kill my baby, so it won't be against the law. Maybe you'll help me so it will be all right, like that baby in Chicago."

"What's that; say it again," gasped the chief.

"The doctors say that she might not ever be able to eat regular food, and, chief, she has fits all the time, and my wife says she does nothing but cry all the time and she's sick. So I asked the doctors to kill the baby, but they wouldn't let them. So I came to ask if you'd help me to do it all regular." Cleveland said.

At Cleveland's desolate home, the city physician found the baby in convulsions, and the mother in hysterics. He instructed that both be taken to a hospital. He said it would be impossible to operate on the infant during the convulsions.

DR. HAISELDEN MAY HELP.
Chicago, March 3.—Dr. Harry J. Haiselden, who for humanitarian reasons, permitted Baby Bollinger to die when an operation might have saved its life, said last night that he might go to Des Moines to look into the case of the Cleveland baby.

"Of course, no physician would kill the child, but in such a case I would control the convulsions by the use of bromides, and the result of such treatment is almost invariably death," said Dr. Haiselden. "It is, however, a kinder death than that which now threatens the little one."

Harry Lauder's Liberty.
In Selt Lake City Harry Lauder sold from an auto on the public streets copies of a special edition of a newspaper published for the benefit of the Red Cross Fund. Beside him stood the Governor of Utah. The crowd was dense, and it was a big event. That afternoon the newspaper in its sporting extra announced that the result had brought $942 for the charity.

A rival morning paper's paragrapher made note thereof, somewhat to the effect that Lauder was a great charity producer—with other people's money. A few hours later the afternoon edition of the paper, he had said, was on the street, on its front page it had a table of receipts from the sale of the Red Cross Special, as follows:

Total receipts ..... $942
Contributed by Harry Lauder ..... 500
Sale of papers ..... 442

Wherever Harry Lauder goes, Scotchmen, near-Scotchmen and Scotchmen of various degrees removed, make effort to see and shake hands with him. They usually introduce themselves by saying they once had an aunt who knew Lauder's sister's fiancée's brother, or the like. But, now and then, as anyone will, Lauder meets up with an old and forgotten crony of his boyhood.

In a western town some time ago he was astounded to turn in his dressing room and behold Tom MacPherson, who had driven little blind mutes with him in the Scotch mines and whom he hadn't seen for many a year.

"So," said Mac, "you're a big man now, Harry; famous, rich, great and a star. And glad I am to see you."

"And you, Tom?" asked Lauder.

"Oh, I emigrated fifteen years ago. I'm still fussing around the mines," said MacPherson.

"Well, well," Lauder mused. "Many things have happened since the old days. You were always a smart lad, and I was always more or less of a dunce in the estimation of the other chaps. And here I am and here you are—" and he went no further, because he didn't want to make his old friend feel badly.

At the performance he saw MacPherson in a box, and after the show was discussing it with the manager of the theatre.

"'Tis a great tribute to the loyalty of old friendship," said Lauder. "Tonight there was a man who paid two dollars and a half a seat in a box because he knew me when I was a miner. And he's still a miner, and he couldn't afford it, either, I venture. His name was MacPherson, and

"Tom MacPherson?" asked the local showman.

"Yes," said Lauder. "He was always that sort of a lad—willing to spend his last cent for—"

The manager was coughing in his handkerchief by now. "Last cent!" he spluttered. "Tom MacPherson owns about thirty million dollars!"

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail. (Advertisement)

The story has to do with the love between a young girl of the Cumberland mountains, the daughter of a moonshiner, and a young Internal Revenue officer sent by the Government to arrest the distillers of illegal whiskey. Success.
"One night at Lady Jeanne's house Joseph Chamberlain said to me that he believed any man of even moderate endowment could attain any given aim which he set before him with unremitting effort and 'enduring to the end.' To my question, 'Why, then, do so many men fall short of their ambitions?' he answered: 'They come to the place where they turn back. They may have killed the dragon at the first bridge and at the second, perhaps even at the third. But the dragons are always more formidable the farther we go. Many turn back disheartened, and very few will meet the monsters to the end. Almost none is willing to have a try with the demon at the last bridge, but if he does he has won forever.'—Princess Lazarovich in Century.

DEFENSE PROGRAM SOON WILL COME UP IN CONGRESS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, March 3. Congress will have before it within the next few days possibly tomorrow, the first of the national defense measures.

This was forecast today as a result of the rapid progress made on the army bills in the house and senate military committees. The house committee reached a final agreement late yesterday on its bill for an increase in the army and the senate committee planned to take a final vote on the bill today. Steps already have been taken to press the two measures to an early conclusion in both houses. The house bill as finally approved calls for an increase in the army to a total peace strength of approximately seven hundred thousand men. This would include 170,000 regulars, 425,000 national guardsmen and about 100,000 federal volunteers.

The house naval committee after listening all day yesterday to an encouraging report by admiral Frank Fletcher, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet on the condition of the nation's sea forces, today turned to consideration of the bill authorizing officers of the marine corps to accept employment in the Haitian constabulary.

To Build Up—After Grippe, Colds—Bad Blood

Take a blood cleanser and alternative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action, called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because of one of its principal ingredients—the Golden Seal plant. It assists the body to manufacture rich red blood which feeds the heart—nerves—brain and organs of the body. The organs work smoothly like machinery running in oil. You feel clean, strong and strenuous instead of tired, weak and faint. Start to take it to-day and before another day has passed, the impurities of the blood will begin to leave your body through the eliminative organs, and in a few days you will know that the bad blood is passing out, and new, rich, pure blood is filling your veins and arteries.

HUNDREDS WILL TESTIFY RIGHT HERE IN OHIO.

Springfield, Ohio.—"I used 'Golden Medical Discovery' as a tonic and building-up medicine. I was run-down so that I weighed 15 lbs. less than usual. I was tired-out and suffering. I learned of 'Golden Medical Discovery' through a booklet left at the door, and used three bottles of 'Discovery.' I began to build up and get stronger and I now have my usual weight and strength back again."—MRS. MAUD HAINES, 17 No. Shafter St.

For all diseases peculiar to women, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a powerful restorative. During the last 40 years it has banished from the lives of tens of thousands of women the pain, worry, misery and distress caused by irregularities and diseases of a feminine character.

DEATH RATE OF INFANTS SHOWS SOME DECREASE

CITIES OF OHIO AHEAD OF VILLAGES IN CONSERVATION OF BABY LIFE

State Health Officers Commend Observation of "Baby Week" Beginning Tomorrow.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, O., March 3.—Infant death rates in Ohio have not decreased greatly in the past five years, despite popular campaigns for education of mothers.

This was the conclusion of state officers today after partially compiling mortality figures for the state in 1913. They commended observation of the week beginning tomorrow as "baby week," however for the reason, that only in localities where similar educational movements have been encouraged, are infantile death rates showing regular decreases.

Cities apparently are forging ahead of the villages and country districts in the conservation of baby life. In the past five years death rates in the country have been virtually stationary but in cities the rates in the country have been virtually stationary but in cities the rates have lowered gradually.

Columbus in 1913 made the most remarkable showing of any city in the United States in decrease of infantile death rate, according to state officials.

Cleveland apparently was the most unhealthy city in the state for babies. Of the 2,898 babies born in Columbus, 307, or 78 in each 1,000 died under the age of one-year, and this was 23 per cent. less than the corresponding rate in 1913.

The death rate in Cleveland was 110 to each 1,000 born, or 17,316 births and 1916 deaths. Cincinnati had 7,791 births, 612 infantile deaths, making the rate of 78 per 1,000. Toledo showed 4,551 births, 480 deaths, and a rate of 107. Dayton recorded 2,697 births, 227 deaths, rate of 84. Cincinnati's reduction of rate under that of 1913 was 18 per cent. Cleveland, Toledo and Dayton had very slight reductions.

For the entire state the number of babies who die every year under the age of one, is about 10,000. In 1913, owing to the excessively hot summer weather, the number jumped to 11,000. Intestinal trouble is the most prevalent cause of early death.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question is asked every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but often due to disordered blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat-foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the system better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the important reason why Scott's Emulsion should always be taken for colds, and it does more—builds strength to prevent sickness.

Scott's Emulsion contains Nature's rare strength building fats, so skillfully blended that the blood profits from every drop. It is free from harmful drugs or alcohol. Sold at drug stores—always get the genuine.

The Good Old Times.

At one time in Rome political offices were auctioned off in public to the highest bidder. In ancient Greece theft was not considered so much of a disgrace as being caught at it.

Our prisons are not ideal, but we have made progress in dealing with crime. There were formerly fourteen offenses in Delaware punishable by hanging. In the early history of Connecticut lying, "that foul and gross sin," was punishable with five stripes at the whipping post and confinement in stocks; people were imprisoned in awful dungeons for debt. In Rome men were sold into slavery to pay debts; creditors could tear the body of the debtor to pieces, each receiving a piece according to the size of his credit.

Today is the best day creation has ever seen. For 2,000 years the Sermon on the Mount, like heaven, has been permeating the hearts of men. At last only that which is good can endure. The fires of time burn out the dross.

There is "one faroff divine event, toward which all creation moves." It is perfection—but it is not here.—Leslie's.

Setting a Fashion.

Some years ago the coral fishers of Torre del Greco, near Naples, were in hard straits. The value of coral had fallen so low that they were no longer able to find purchasers for their harvest. At last in their despair they besought the queen to come to their aid. At the first great court ball that was held that year at the Quirinal the queen, to the surprise of all beholders, wore about her neck a collar composed of six rows of coral instead of her superb collar of pearls, and her black hair was crowned with a diadem of coral and brilliants. From that evening the mode changed. Old coral ornaments that had been hidden away for years and years were again displayed at the jewellers' and were snapped up by eager purchasers. Queen Helena's object was attained, and that court ball marked the beginning of more prosperous days for the coral fishers of Torre del Greco.

The Chinaman's Wardrobe.

In "Home Life in China" Isaac Taylor Headland tells the following story to illustrate the conveniences of the Chinese costume:

A Chinese government representative who was new to American ways came to the home of an eminent New York banker for a week's visit. It was winter, but he came without luggage, and yet every day he appeared at dinner with a change of garments. At first his hostess wondered how he managed it, but soon she discovered that his body was his trunk and that instead of putting his clothes into his trunk he put his trunk into his clothes. His garments were like the layers of an onion, except that any layer might be worn on the outside, and as some of his gowns—for such they might be called—were of silk, lined with fur, or fur, lined with silk, he could wear them either side out at will.

A Rare Bird.

The lowest form of bird life which exists is believed to be the kiwi, or Apteryx nantelli, of New Zealand. It is so scarce, however, that scientists consider themselves lucky to get a specimen in any condition. It is without wings or tail; its legs are short, but very strong, and are used for digging. The chief food of the bird is earthworms. The body covering is a cross between hair and feathers. The kiwis develop great speed and make a desperate fight when attacked. A peculiar characteristic is that during the day they conceal themselves under rocks or roots of trees and when at rest resemble to some extent a hedgehog when it is curled up. Efforts to breed them in captivity have utterly failed, and only a few museums can boast of specimens.

Explained.

When he came in late he said to his waiting wife, "See the nice present I brought you."

"Where is it?"

"Here it is. A point lace handkerchief."

"Oh, ain't it beautiful!"

"Yes, it cost a dollar, marked down to 99 cents."

"My, what a horrible odor!"

"Oh, that's the scent off the dollar!"—Exchange.

"When you are once well dressed for the day," wrote Chesterfield, "think no more of it. Always and without any stiffness or fear of discomposing that dress let all your actions be as easy and natural as if you had no clothes on at all."

An Unkind Retort.

"You made a fool of me!" exclaimed the angry husband.

"Call yourself a fool if you wish, my dear," calmly rejoined his tantalizingly placid wife, "but remember that you have always claimed to be a self made man."

A Bird's Barbed Wire Fences.

There is in Central America a brown wren about the size of a canary which builds a curious nest. It selects a small tree with horizontal branches growing close together. Across two of the branches it lays sticks fastened together with tough fiber until a platform about six feet long by two feet wide has been constructed. On the end of this platform nearest the tree trunk it then builds a huge dome shaped nest a foot or so high with thick sides of interwoven thorns. A covered passageway is then made from the nest to the end of the platform in as crooked a manner as possible. Across the outer end as well as at short intervals along the inside of this tunnel are placed cunning little fences of thorns with just space enough for the owners to pass through. On going out this opening is closed by the owner by placing thorns across the gateway, and thus the safety of the eggs or young is assured.

Cream Sauce.

To make a satisfactory cream sauce, first put the milk on and while this is getting warm rub the butter and flour together until smooth. As soon as the milk comes to the boil gradually add the creamy mixture while the milk continues to boil, and the finished sauce will be quite smooth.

A NON-ALCOHOLIC TONIC

Debility is a loss of vitality, not affecting any one part of the body particularly but the system generally. It is dangerous because it reduces the body's resistance to disease.

When debility follows acute diseases, convalescence is slow and the strength does not return as it should. An attack of the grip often results in debility that persists for months. Everybody recognizes that the remedy for debility is to build up the blood because the blood goes to every part of the body and improvement in its condition is quickly felt throughout the system. The problem in every case is to find something that will enrich the blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suit most people's need because they are non-alcoholic and they really build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful for growing children and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overdrawn. They are certainly worthy of a trial in every case of weak nerves and thin blood.

Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free booklet on the blood and nerves.

Fine Healthy Child Convincing Evidence

Simple Inexpensive Remedy Checks
Early Tendency to Constipation.

About the first thing impressed on the young Mother is the necessity for regularity in her baby, which brings up the question of the most desirable laxative for children's use.

Mrs. Jesse Richardson, Philmont, Ky., says she has used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for the past year and that there is no medicine in the world like it. She writes, "My little son, William, Jr., just loved it because it is so pleasant to take, and everybody talks about his being such a fine healthy boy."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of simple laxative herbs, free from any opiate or narcotic drug, and is the standard remedy for constipation in thousands of homes throughout the land. Drug Stores everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle. Get a bottle of this excellent remedy, and have it in the

GENTLE RUBBING HELPS VARICOSE VEINS

Rubbing the swollen veins nightly for about two minutes with a gentle upward stroke brings benefit to sufferers and is mighty good advice, says an authority.

After the rubbing, which should always be toward the heart, because the blood in the veins flows that way, apply Emerald Oil (full strength) with brush or hand.

Try this simple home treatment for a few days and improvement will be noticed, then continue until veins are reduced to normal. It is very concentrated and penetrating and can be obtained at any modern drug store. It is so powerful that it also reduces Gout and Wens.

Evans Drug Store has Emerald Oil in the original bottle and will be glad to supply it.

NUXATED IRON

Stoic and Diligence.

Stoic said to Diligence: "You work too hard. For two days now you have been busy plowing that field. I hear Ingenuity has invented a plow driven by steam. Why not get one to plow for you while you sit with me in the shade and enjoy life?"

Diligence bought the plow which would plow a field in a fraction of the time it had taken him to do it. But instead of sitting in the shade he put more land into cultivation, and it took all his time to attend to the plow and see that it worked properly.

When harvest time came he had more to do than ever on account of the new land he had cultivated.

Harvest over, Stoic went to pay Diligence a visit, saying to himself, "Now he will have a little more time to talk to me." But he found him conferring with Ingenuity in regard to a larger, more powerful plow, that he might next season put still more land in cultivation.

Moral.—There is no cure for diligence.—Boston Journal.

Pigs as Watchdogs.

In some parts of Mexico the wild hogs, which the natives call jabalis (hah-bah-lee), savage beasts in their natural state, are used as watchdogs. If they are caught young and brought up with goats they will go out into the hills with the herd and fight off coyotes or other wild animals; if they are raised with chickens they will protect them, and round a ranch house at night they are as useful as any dog.

Although fierce by nature, they can be tamed until they follow their master round like a dog. The landlord of a hotel in one of the border towns even keeps one of the wild hogs as a piagnote for his baby son.

The jabali is only first cousin, however, to the domestic pig. Swine are divided into two main branches. In one line is the farmer's pig, descended from the wild hog of Europe, and in the other is the jabali, which is really a peccary. But the jabali is quite "piggish" enough with his small flexible snout, long mottled bristles and long sharp tusks.

Ways of the Butcher Bird.

Some call it the butcher bird, but the real name is shrike. It is one of the oddest birds we have, because it represents a creature that is changing its type. Should you happen to walk through the country and come across a thorn tree with a small garter snake or a mouse impaled on a spike you may know that a shrike is around.

Originally the bird was insectivorous and spent its time eating grasshoppers and such like. Somehow it got a taste of mouse or perhaps a smaller bird that it killed in a fight. It liked the meal, and naturally the bill of fare was extended to include mice, snakes and lizards. Very foxy is the shrike. It had no talons to tear its prey apart, so it hit on the plan of impaling the victim upon a thorn, where it could lie leisurely and on the installment plan.

The butcher bird is about nine inches long and looks something like a mocking bird.—Philadelphia North American.

The Tyranny of Wills.

Many petty tyrants have sought to impose their will on posterity. Henry Budd, who died in 1862, gave proof in his will of a prejudice against mustaches. "In case my son Edward shall wear mustaches," he stipulated, "then the devise hereinbefore contained in favor of him of my estate called Pepper Park shall be void, and I devise the same estate to my son William, his appointees, heirs and assigns. And in case my said son William shall wear mustaches then the devise hereinbefore contained in favor of him of my estate called Twickenham Park shall be void, and I devise the same estate to my son Edward." Presumably the sons accepted that close shave for a fortune.—London Spectator.

A Mighty Workman.

Mrs. McTavish (his neighbor)—Is it true that your Jock started to work in the pit last Monday? Mrs. Christie—Her face glowing with pride—Quite true, Mrs. M., and, what's more, I see by the papers that there's been two thousand mair tons o' coal shipped last week than ever has been before! I aye said Jock had the makin' o' a guid collier!—London Globe.

Fires in Holland.

Fires of any size are so scarce in Holland that the city of Rotterdam, with a population of over 400,000, has practically no fire department, while the prevalence of canals offers an ever ready water supply to fight any fires which might occur.

Long and Short of It.

"Mr. Blinks," said she, "do you think that anticipation is greater than realization?" "Well," replied Mr. Blinks, "anticipation is broader and higher, but realization is longer and flatter."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Pitched Battle.

"From the viewpoint of an innocent bystander," philosophically remarked the old codger, "I believe that the keenest competition I know of occurs when two chronic dyspeptics get together and compare their symptoms."—Judge.

War Lance.

The war lance of the middle ages was about sixteen feet long. The present day lance rarely exceeds eleven feet.

There is no greater delight than to be conscious of sincerity on self examination.—Menchus.

CATARRH GERMS EASILY KILLED

Only Way to Cure This Disease is to Destroy Its Cause

If you have catarrh and want to get rid of it you must kill the germs which cause catarrh. Stomach dosing, ointments, sprays, creams, douches, etc., fail because they overlook this fact. They all help by giving temporary relief but they do not reach the germ life that has found lodgement in your head, nose, throat, and could not destroy it if they did.

The best known way of destroying the dangerous germs of Catarrh and consequently ending the disease itself, is to breathe into the air passages of your nose and throat the pleasant, penetrating air of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mei). Hyomei is made from purest oil of Eucalyptus combined with other powerful, healing, antiseptic and germicidal ingredients. You breathe it through a little pocket inhaler which T. J. Evans and other leading druggists in Newark and vicinity are furnishing with every complete treatment sold.

Every time you inhale the sweet, fragrant air of Hyomei through this little device you draw into your swollen, inflamed germ laden membranes a medicated air which will not only reduce all the swelling and inflammation and open your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages, but will absolutely and positively destroy every trace of Catarrh germ life it reaches. Druggists are so sure of the blessed, lasting relief that Hyomei brings to catarrh sufferers that they sell it invariably on the positive guarantee that money paid will be refunded if successful results are not secured from its use. Get a Hyomei outfit from your druggist today and begin at once to drive this dangerous and disgusting disease from your system forever.

PATASKALA

Mrs. Rosila Moreland Peters, wife of Samuel J. Peters, died at her home northwest of Pataskala at 4 a. m. last Friday, aged 63 years and 9 days.

Mrs. Peters had not been in the best of health for years, but the evening preceding her death she had felt better than usual and performed her evening work but during the night was seized with paralysis dying suddenly.

Deceased leaves a husband and four children—Mrs. Cora Sprinkle of Montgomery, Ala., Walter Peters, Mrs. Minnie Keyser and Mrs. Addie Mazelin of Pataskala. Also one sister, Mrs. Jacob Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters had lived on the farm where the latter died all their married life—nearly 50 years, and this was the first death in their family.

The funeral was held from the home at 1 p. m. Sunday conducted by Rev. E. F. Crawford of Pataskala and the arrangements in charge of the Vinton D. Morrow Co. Burial in Pataskala cemetery.

A model 15 Linotype to be installed in the Standard office was ordered from the Mergenthaler Linotype Co., this week.

Chas. Bishop, who has but one opportunity in four years to celebrate his birthday, as the latter comes on Feb. 29th, celebrated the event Saturday afternoon in order not to encroach upon school hours.

Charles was eight years old and eight friends gathered at his home on Broadway to help him fittingly celebrate.

ASTHMA

Simple Harmless Remedy Brings Quick Relief.

Many cases of immediate relief and rapid recovery from Bronchial Asthma of long standing and other diseases of throat and lungs are being credited to a discovery made by Dr. Eugene Howard of Worcester, Mass. Dr. Howard's prescription, which is totally different from all usual methods of treatment for these afflictions, is called Oxidaze and comes in the form of a tablet which the patient allows to dissolve slowly in the mouth. Its curative, healing juices thus mingle with the saliva and enter every crevice of the irritated bronchial membranes, release the muscular constriction of the bronchial tubes, open up the air passages and regulate the spasmodic lung action. These tablets, though pleasant to the taste, are so powerful and rapid in their action that many users who for years were obliged to sit up in bed gasping for breath and unable to sleep report that they now put a single Oxidaze tablet in their mouth when going to bed and can then lie down and breathe easily and naturally and get a good night's restful sleep. W. A. Egan, The Evans Drug Co., and many other local druggists who handle Oxidaze tablets sell it on the positive guarantee of money back if it does not give immediate relief.

Society

A pleasant surprise was given Miss Emma May Long on Wednesday evening, the occasion being her eleventh birthday anniversary. Music games and a contest were enjoyed during the evening. Gladys Steman winning the souvenir in the contest. The little hostess received many pretty gifts. Luncheon was served the following guests:

Florence Hammock, Margaret Davis, Helen Gard, Thelma Wilkins, Dorothy Andrews, Gladys Steadman, Janice Keys, William Atherton, Reginald Andrews, Lester Keys, Walter Green, Arthur Wahl and Walter Hendren.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the East Main Street U. B. church met on Tuesday afternoon and the following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Addie B. Warman.
Vice President—Mrs. Anna Cox.
Second Vice President—Mrs. Hoagwood.
Secretary—Mrs. Phillips.
Treasurer—Mrs. Courson.

Asst. Sec. of Literature—Mrs. Camp.
Collectors—Mrs. Kline, Mrs. Braden and Mrs. Griffith.

As this year marks the tri-centenary celebration of the noted poet, William Shakespeare, it also will mark a noted revival of the works of the writer, and this will be noticed especially in the program of the various literary clubs of the country.

Most of the magazines are devoting some space to the man and his works, and celebrations are being planned to commemorate him. Among the literary clubs of the city that will include Shakespearean study to their programs, the first to take action was the Progressive club and on Wednesday when the annual business meeting was held, the topics selected for the study for the year were Australia, Shakespeare and current events. Mrs. U. O. Stevens, a Shakespearean student, was named chairman of the program committee. The program when published will contain a number of papers which will afford an opportunity for an interesting and instructive study of the famed writer.

Services for the colored people of the city have been held at the former Primitive Baptist church in North Sixth street and on the 18th of February the Providence Baptist church was organized and officers elected as following:

Church Clerk—Mr. William Hopkins.
Treasurer—Mrs. Sarah Craig.
Pastor—Rev. George A. Madison.
Deacons—William Hopkins and Anthony Jones.
Trustees—T. L. Craig, Harley Flank, M. J. Jasper, Noah Johnson, Fountain A. Johnson.
Organist—Mrs. Harley Flank.

The outlook for the growth of the new church among the colored people of the city is very favorable and the organizers hope to be able to purchase church property in the near future.

Miss Dot Woodward is entertaining the members of her sewing club this evening at her home in West Church street.

Mrs. Irene Brown who will leave in a few days for her new home in Detroit, Mich., entertained the members of her club at the home of her mother, Mrs. T. B. Smouse in Jefferson street on Thursday evening. The hours were devoted to needlework and the following members and guests were present: Mrs. Clyde Campbell, Mrs. Wilfred Jones, Misses Ada and Ruth Howard, Lottie McMillen, Irene Williams, Ruth Jones, Florence Cornett, and Cleo McDonald.

Mrs. Fred Cummins in Wehrle avenue entertained on Thursday afternoon the members of the Good Will club. The club colors pink and white were carried out in the decorations and the dainty three course luncheon served the members.

Milady's Boudoir

I think that the small waist is a deformity and there is no grace or beauty in an eighteen inch waist, twenty-seven inches is much more preferable.

When these deformed waists are made by tight lacing, they not only mar the beauty of the figure, but destroy that of the face, as well. Instead of tight lacing to reduce or confine the waist, it is far better to reduce it in a natural and healthy way. To do so, stand erect, toes pointing out slightly. Begin action by raising the right arm high over the head, then bend the trunk to the right until the hand rests on the floor.

The right foot must hold a firm and flat position on the floor and the left leg may then be raised. Now assume the first upright position, and in like manner bend to the left. Just how often this movement should be repeated must be left to the individual. However, I would advise bending to either side five to ten times the first few times that one indulges in this exercise, and increase the number as the muscles become limber and the flesh is reduced. In addition to affecting the measurement of the waist, this exercise vitalizes the whole system.

JANE SHACKLEFORD
BUSY 21 YEARS AGO.
Mrs. Jane Shackelford, Newark's unrivaled cook, is always busy preparing delicacies which satisfy the most fastidious. A wedding feast, without the skill of her art, would be a failure. This week she is engaged in preparing supper for the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Crane and also the Ball-Metz wedding.—From the Women's Edition Newark Advocate, Feb. 16, 1895.

Harvest Time in Shantung.

Now, come and see a harvest in Shantung. Here, too, it is the time of supreme interest to the whole family. Life in the country is practically measured by so many wheat harvests, and every old man and woman hopes to live to see one more. For weeks before all plans are made with reference to it. Carpentry, masonry, work of every kind must either be finished before "pulling wheat time" or laid aside at that time to wait until the harvest is over. No matter how important in the eyes of a foreign resident the work in hand may become, he cannot beg or buy his workmen to continue when once the wheat is ripe. In the hospitals all the patients want to get well by wheat pulling time. Some must stay on, but many a one incapacitated in hand or foot for real work goes home to take his or her place in "watching the gate," that all the rest of the family may go to the field and thrashing floor.—Christian Herald.

The Irish of the Balkans.

The Servians are the Irish of southeastern Europe, with all the virtues and some of the weaknesses of the Irish people. They are especially proud of their national poetry, which they possess as no other nation possesses in modern times, for they still have their national bards—men who live by making national songs, not highly cultured poets, but men in the street. They do not go to a newspaper to report what they hear, but to the next inn or coffee house, and there take up their instruments to recite what they have to say. Virtually our bards are ancient reporters. The old ones sing. Those of the present day stenograph. The Servian language is the richest and most musical of the Slav dialects. The Russian language has that reputation, but it is not so musical and clear and rich.—Miyatovitch, Servian minister to England, in the Manchester Guardian.

Clouded Windows.

Many people have a window or a part of one which they would like barred to the too curious gaze of passers-by or, possibly, of neighbors.

This can be managed by prettily crystallizing the window glass as follows: Fill a jam pot one-third full of gum arabic and add a little hot water. Let this soak for some hours and when the gum has quite dissolved add the same quantity of epsom salts. Then stand the jam pot in a basin of hot water and stir well until the salt has quite dissolved. Apply the mixture to the glass quickly with a camel's hair brush.

The effect is like crystallized ground glass, and, while light is admitted, no one can see through it. The effect of plain ground glass is obtained by using a linen rag instead of a brush and putting the preparation on thinly.—Exchange.

It Was a Nice Stone.

General Sir John Younghusband, the well known writer on military subjects, was once cleverly victimized by some Indian natives. At a village where he was encamping the dusky inhabitants brought to his tent a number of sapphire-like stones which they stated had been dug up at a spot some distance from the village. Sir John was convinced that he had luckily hit on a treasure mine. He bought every stone the natives possessed.

"I had dreams of boundless wealth," said Sir John when relating the story, "and on my arrival at Calcutta I hastened to have the stones valued. 'Lovely color, light, perfect, not a flaw, worth 50 guineas apiece—if they were not made of Birmingham paste' was the expert's crushing criticism."—London Tatler.

Story of a Postal Card.

Don't despise the badly written postal card, moralizes a writer in Business. He received a card that was written in a scrawl and showed signs of having been in the writer's pocket for some time after he had signed it. But it was answered just as if it had been written by a reputable business man. And it was. It seemed that the card had been hastily written on the cars, put into the merchant's pocket, discovered several days later and then mailed. "We have since," concludes the writer, "done a very nice business with this man."

His Music Room.

"And you call this your music room?" "Yes."
"But there are no musical instruments in it?"
"No. It's so constructed that I can't hear any of the surrounding music that may be turned on from time to time."

Our Boys and Girls

A good way to furnish a child's room at little cost is to paint the floor a drab color two feet around the wall and cover the rest of the floor with an art square of light matting. Paint an old bed, chairs, stand and any article you wish in white. Pad the chairs, back and seat, with some soft goods, then cover with white oilcloth and tack with brass tacks all around seat and back, also tack biscuit fashion. Take a small box for a footstool, cover it, and you will have something pretty and lasting. Make curtains of bleached cheesecloth with ruffles and edge with cheap lace if you like. On the walls have pictures of children and animals in bright colors.

Rippling Rhymes

A Deadly Winter.
It has been a deadly season, which can't be denied; and there was no rhyme or reason in the way men died. I would hear a comrade coughing; "See the doc," I'd say, and he'd leave me, mildly scoffing, to cash in next day. I would say, to some one sneezing, "Dope, ere it gets worse!" He would laugh, and then go breezing graveyard in the hearse. Nobly did the men of science exercise their skill, using up to date appliance, potion, drug and pill; daily, nightly were they waging war against the foe, but the demon Grip went raging, laying people low. All in vain their dark brown litters, all in vain their piller, sneezing to the last, poor critters, climbed the sunset hills. Epidemics are as senseless as is Europe's war; foolish, cruel and defenseless, say, what are they for? What the use of people dying, croaking in platoons, while the doctors, nobly trying, cannot cure for prunes?

Wall Street.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, March 3.—Gains ranging from material fractions to a full point marked the opening of today's trading, with a few offsetting features, mainly in rails and war issues. Speculation was moderate and cautious, however, there being plainly a further disposition to await the outcome of developments in Washington. Commission houses reported a cessation of out of town liquidation but public interest in the buying side continued negligible.

Prices yielding before the end of the half with special weakness in Baldwin Locomotive and allied issues.

A spirited rise in oils, American Locomotive and some other active industries succeeded the decline in Baldwin and prices recovered to or above yesterday's finals. Mexican petroleum and Texas company rose 1-2 each and American Locomotive gained almost three points. Some specialties displayed greater weakness however, general Motors losing 10 and consolidated Gas and Electric of Baltimore declining 5-3-4. Trading became very apathetic later the first hour's turn over being the smallest of recent deliveries and showing increased dullness with the approach of the mid-session. Bonds were steady.

Chicago Grain.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, March 3.—Higher prices at Liverpool gave strength today to the wheat market here. The bulls seemed to be encouraged also by the prospect that the submarine issue in congress would be sidetracked. There were signs, too, that exporters and millers were not overlooking advanced prices opportunities to purchase. Opening quotations which ranged from 1-4 to 1-1-8 higher with May at $1.11 1-2 to $1.12, and July at $1.09 1-2 to $1.09 7-8 were followed by a slight further gain and then a moderate setback.

Word from Washington that the Gore resolution had been tabled was succeeded by a notable hardening of prices here. The market was bullishly affected at about the same time by a comprehensive report of adverse crop conditions. Closing quotations were firm, 2-1-2 to 2-5-8 net higher with May at $1.13 7-8 and July at $1.11 1-4.

Damage reports from Argentina tended to lift the corn market. Advances, however, brought about increased selling and caused a reaction. After opening unchanged to 2-8c higher, prices underwent a material sag.

The market rallied later in sympathy with wheat. The close was firm at half a 5-8 to 7-8c net advance.

Oats paralleled the action of corn. Trading was only of a scattered character. Higher prices on hogs put a little firmness into provisions. The market was fairly active.

COMMISSIONERS

WILL POSSIBLY SETTLE DIVISION OF SHACKLEFORD REWARD TOMORROW.

Had Moved Slowly in the Matter Owing to Fact that Story of Claimant Was Discredited.

County Commissioners Jos. H. Orr, Frank R. Dumm and Orville Kiger were in session today and heard the story of "Slick" Arnold's claim to the $200 reward which had been offered for the apprehension of Stimson Shackelford.

The commissioners informed Arnold that they wished a little more time to consider the matter as they had read an account of an alleged interview with him in which he denied that he had anything to do with the turning up of the suspect. "Slick" stated that he was misquoted and said that Chief Sheridan could tell them positively whether he was the one that phoned the information from Cincinnati regarding Shackelford's whereabouts.

The commissioners will possibly settle the matter tomorrow and make a division of the reward between "Slick" and the Cincinnati authorities as it is understood that Chief Sheridan has informed them of the true facts in the case, that Arnold was the one who gave him the information which led to the discovery of young Shackelford at the Joe Arnold home in Cincinnati and which subsequently resulted in a revolver duel with Cincinnati detectives, the young negro meeting his death while resisting arrest and attempting to shoot the officers.

NEW BUS LINE TO JOHNSTOWN IS INSTALLED

A new bus was installed today to run between Newark and Johnstown, and the bus which has been run in the past will be used to carry baggage. The new vehicle is a 40 horse power Studebaker and was purchased through the local agent, Mr. S. E.
Forsythe. It is attractive in appearance being painted in blue black, and has side seats to accommodate from 16 to 18 passengers. It is built like a street car with the glass windows, and is roomy and comfortable. The purchase price was $1400. The car will afford many conveniences for the passengers such as an automobile door and push buttons to signal the driver. Patrons on the North are delighted with the new service.

Dr. E. T. Hagerman, one of the most noted lecturers of the west, and at one time a pastor of the largest protestant church in the state of Iowa, was a visitor in the city today, guest of Hon. B. F. Mc-Donald, the two gentlemen having been on the same Chautauqua circuit in Missouri and Arkansas a year ago last summer. Dr. Hagerman was on his way from Cambridge to Bozycus, having lectured in the former city last night. He will lecture in the Crawford county capital tonight.

"THE WHEN" STORE OPENS SATURDAY; ALL IS PREPARED

Spring flowers intermingling with the bright and varied colors of the spring millinery and gowns, marked the opening of "The When," a new ready-to-wear store, in West Main street today.

The new store is located in the large store room in the Wehrle building, and was attractively arranged for the opening. "The When" is one of three stores of that name, the other two being in Huntington, W. Va., and Portsmouth, O., and is under the local management of Mr. F. A. Stevens, formerly of the Meyer & Lundorf store. Mr. Stevens is well equipped with business experience for his new position, having been associated with stores in many large cities, and he has been in Newark the past three years. He is well known to a large circle of people and his courtesy will always insure patrons.

The store was arranged with palms, and wicker baskets filled with jougals were placed to artistic advantage. A large stock of goods has already arrived but is not nearly complete as a large line will be carried.

The new company shows women's suits, coats, dresses, underskirts, hosiery, corsets and millinery. In the men's departments will be found suits and overcoats, raincoats and hats.

During the opening hours a large number of people visited the store,
the women being given cut flowers as favors while the men were presented with cigarets, and music was rendered by a Victrola furnished by Stewart Bros. & Alward.

Court Adjourns.

been adjourned and the jurors dismissed from further service. The next term of court will be the April term and will open April 3.

ASSIGNEE SELLS HARDWARE STOCK TO GEO. H. LONG

The Dan L. Jones stock of hardware was sold today by the assignee, Mr.
J. D. Keely, to George H. Long, proprietor of the Long department store, Fourth street and the Arcade. The price paid was $1,156, and Mr. Long secured a lease on the building in W.
Park Place in which the Jones Hardware store has been located for a number of years.

"I Love You."
Very interesting are the phrases used by the various people of the world to express "I love you." Wherever there are human beings declarations of love are made, and there are a thousand languages in which the tender passion may be expressed. The Chinese say
"Uo ugal ni," the Armenian expresses his love with "Se stren as hez," the Arab is content with the short "Ne habbek," while the Turk murmurs
"Sidi sevelorum." In India "Main syne ka pisar karim" is the declaration. But the Greenlander holds the palm for the word love. When he does not stammer it has fifteen syllables and has been recorded phonetically thus:
"Unifraeendlaunalerfironajunguarrigtjak!"

TO ORGANIZE NEW PHILIPPINE BANK

BABY WEEK TO BE OBSERVED IN THIS CITY

The members of the City Federation of Women's Clubs and the Associated Charities are co-operating to make "Baby Week" which begins tomorrow and continues until the following Saturday a success in Newark. Cities all over the country are devoting this week to the baby, in an effort to instruct and educate the parents in the care of the child and to make better babies.

Every one loves the tiny mite of humanity, and undoubtedly all will make it a personal interest in the babies of Newark for a week at least. The merchants have agreed to arrange their display windows with things for the baby, and on Thursday afternoon a baby contest will be held. The place for judging the children has not been decided upon, and will be announced later.
There will be two $5.00 prizes, for a baby under one year of age and for a baby under two years of age.
The examination will be made under the Metropolitan Life Insurance company's physical test and the prize will be awarded to the children scoring the most points.

Mr. W. H. Mazey of the W. H.
Mazey company has offered a $5.00
prize for the best essay on the care of a baby under one and two years old by children under 14 years of age.

Friday has been designated as flag day and every one interested in small children has been asked to place a flag in their window on that day and on Saturday afternoon a lecture, "The Care of the Baby," will be given at 2:30 o'clock. The place for holding the lecture will be announced later.

Literature pertaining to the proper method by which children should be cared for will be sent to all homes where there are children under two years old, and any home where there are children where this literature is not received will notify Room 14, Associated Charities, Hibbert & Schaus Building.

WILL ASK FOR FISH AND GAME FOR LICKING CO.

At a meeting of the directors of the Licking County Fish and Game Protective association, held this morning at the Park National Bank plans were made to request from the government and state fish hatch-eries a supply of fish and game to replenish the streams and fields of Licking county.

Different varieties of fish were discussed and within a few days, the committee in charge of the propagation and distribution, will forward requests to the government. Particular attention is to be given this season to the streams through the county and an effort is to be made to get brook trout and rock bass for this purpose.

WOMAN AGED 86 BROKE HER HIP; FELL TO FLOOR

Mrs. John Bronny of German street, who is 86 years old, suffered a serious injury on Tuesday.
Mrs. Bronny was seized with a sudden dizziness, and fell to the floor breaking her right hip. In falling she knocked over a boiler of scald-ing water and her right side was seriously scalded.

Owing to her advanced years, the injury is considered as very serious.
Mrs. Bronny is the wife of John Bronny, who is well known as the "pretzel man."

Commissioners Jos. H. Ori, Frank
R. Dunn and Orville Kiger in session today passed favorably on the opening of a road east and west through Granville and petitioned for by Lewis W. Flory and others, and made necessary by the proposed laying of Main street in that village.
The new road will connect College street with the Granville cement road, and will be opened within the next thirty days.

Bazler ambulance from the City Hospital to his home, 129 Fleck home for several weeks following an accident, has sufficiently recovered to be able to be down town on Thursday.

been ill with the grip for the past few weeks at her home in Buena

Granville

Special to The Advocate
Granville, O., March 9.—If there is any truth in the old saying that "the first three days of March rule the season," then we may look for a chilly, unpleasant spring and may not hope to sit on porches, nor to make flower beds with very great comfort or enjoyment. But if the weather does not prevent the necessary work on paving Broadway, the people in Granville will bear the rest with patience, for every one is looking forward to the time when this much maligned thoroughfare shall emerge from the mud and become a beautiful boulevard, a "frame of beauty and a joy forever" to tourists as well as to residents.

One of the most commendable programs of the Women's Missionary Organization of the Baptist church was presented on Thursday afternoon, March 2, in the church parlors. The retiring secretary, Miss Jennie Roe, read an interesting annual report after which the new officers were installed by Mrs. C. E. Goodell, preceding the regular program. Mrs. Paul Biefeldt favored the audience with a piano solo which was highly enjoyed. The president, Mrs. Robert Burns then called upon Miss Lucille Powell, dean of Shepards College to lead the devotional service which she did in a most impressive way. Current Events by Mrs. W. P. Ullman proved of timely interest, and the announcement of the topic of the afternoon followed, "The Uplifting of a Race," with Mrs. C. D. Coons as leader of the program was of absorbing interest, and Mrs. Coons' talk was characterized by earnestness, insight and a sense of proportion in dealing with so great a subject as "Booker T. Washington," in so brief a time as that allotted to her. Shepards Seminary the colored girls' school near Atlanta, Ga., was described by Miss Jennie Roe in a way to awaken interest and enthusiasm. The singing of these colored girls has always been an interesting feature of the school life, and both preceding and following Miss Roe's talk a group of plantation melodies was sung by a quartet of Shepards college girls led by to hear the play on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Coons and Mrs. E. P. Johnston, which were a welcome addition to the delightful program. Reports of the Home and Foreign treasurers for the year, showed that the former is fourteen dollars ahead of the apportionment, $120, the latter ten dollars in excess of its apportionment, $160.00, besides the hundreds of dollars in supplies and clothes sent by the circle. During the social hour which followed, a dainty luncheon of salad, white and brown bread sandwiches and coffee was served by Circle No. 6, of which Mrs. W. A. Holmes is leader.

After a ten days' visit with Mrs. A. H. Heisey in Newark, Miss M. E. Pinney has returned to her home in Broadway.

The town council will hold a regular meeting next Tuesday evening, when the matter of paving Main street with brick will be taken up. It is said that a petition is being circulated to pave South Pearl street with brick and that this also will be presented at this meeting.

Every one in the community should attend the lecture by Hon. Nelson Darling on "Community Building" to be delivered in the Opera House next Tuesday evening, in which he will show how a community may be built up.

The enterprising jeweler, Mr. George Stuart has installed a wireless telegraph instrument in his front window which he intends to put in operation this week. He will use it every day in getting the correct time from Arlington, Va. at 11:00 a. m., and at 9 p. m. Richard H. Howe of this place, a regular licensed amateur wireless operator will help him install the instrument. Richard is a son of the late Butler Howe and stepson of Mr. Boaz Jones. He possesses a natural talent for mechanics and has worked with tools since an early age.

Mrs. A. L. Ralston (Andie Tight) of Grove City, who has been quite ill with grip this winter, is again able to be out. At a luncheon given by Mrs. J. C. Campbell at her home in Columbus, Thursday, Mrs. Ralston and Mrs. R. S. Colwell of Granville were honor guests.

"Officer 666" as presented by the Denison "Masquers" is an all star cast, which means there is not a poor one in the company. The performance is finished to the last detail. Many Granville people have planned going in the Newark High School auditorium.

Mrs. J. D. Thompson will entertain the D. A. R. at the regular meeting this evening at 7 o'clock, at her home in Broadway.

Kenneth Ullman and Harold Kier were given the E. A. degree in Masonry last Monday night. On next Monday night the Master's degree will be conferred on two candidates at a special meeting of Center Star Lodge F. & A. M. No. 11.

Miss Emma Blanchard has rented her home on South Pearl street and has gone to Columbus where she will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Bailey, 627 Kelton avenue.

After a visit with relatives in Marysville, Mrs. George Stuart and little son have returned to their home on Burg street.

Mrs. Frank Rue of Trenton, N. J., has arrived in Granville, where she will make an extended visit with her mother, Mrs. T. F. Wright, and her sister, Mrs. J. D. Thompson.

Mr. E. G. Horton has moved his household goods and his family into the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Guckert.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCune of Columbus, who spent the summer in Granville, have returned and resumed their occupancy of the Humphrey home in East Elm street. When a boy Mr. McCune lived in Granville, his father having owned the farm on the Newark road, now known as Bryn Du.

The "Ten Musical Salisburys" arrived in Granville this morning and will be ready for their concert this evening.

WELL KNOWN WOMAN SINGS PRAISES OF TANLAC

SHE WAS A SUFFERER FROM STOMACH TROUBLE, WEAKNESS, AND NO APPETITE

"I Can Work Now Without Becoming Exhausted—Tanlac Certainly Helped Me."

Mrs. M. J. Ross whose home is at 296 Florence avenue, is one of the latest users of Tanlac to speak words of praise of it. She says: "I suffered from stomach trouble, loss of appetite and weakness and I am on my second bottle of Tanlac and will say that it has done me a whole lot of good and, I can work now without becoming exhausted. Tanlac certainly helped me."

Tanlac is just as beneficial in catarrh, liver and kidney troubles, the after effects of jaundice and pneumonia and is a notorious nerve tonic and system purifier. It is demonstrated at Hall's Drug Store and is for sale at Utica by P. H. Richardson, at Granville by W. P. Ullman, at Pataskala by J. R. Strine and at Hebron by the Hebron Drug Co. Adv.
